OTTAWA (CP) — A document tabled Friday in the Commons confirms the contention of dismissed Rear-Admiral William Landymore that the defence department deleted his references to a "desperate" shortage of naval personnel from his brief prepared for the defence committee June 23.

Defence Minister Hellyer

tabled without comment the original brief as prepared by the admiral and the defence department's edited version which the admiral presented to the committee.

Outside the Commons, Mr. Hellyer told reporters that the minister has the right to determine what armed forces officers can tell a committee. An officer must conform to government policy or resign.

The document showed that the defence department also deleted from Admiral Landymore's prepared brief a suggestion for a sea blockade of Cyprus to help protect the United Nations peacekeeping force there.

Deleted was this sentence, among others: "It is well

Hydro Bill Going Up?

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier Bennett said Friday B.C. Hydro may have to impose a temporary "moderate" increase in electricity rates to offset higher interest charges on the Peace River hydro project.

In a telephone interview from Ottawa, the premier said Hydro must operate in the black if it is to maintain the confidence of investors who buy bonds.

He would not forecast the amount of the possible increase, but he said it probably would not cancel all of the savings of three rate cuts over three years.

HEALTHY TOTAL
Hydro has said these cuts have reduced rates by a total of $20,000,000 a year.

The premier was in Ottawa for the federal-provincial fiscal conference, at which he also presented demands for federal aid to offset higher interest rates and other charges on the Columbia River project. (See Page 11.)

TWO YEARS AWAY
He said the possible electricity-rate increase would last only until Peace power flows into the hydro system, about October, 1968.

His statement came a day after Dr. Gordon Shrum, co-chairman of Hydro, said increased electricity rates were a possible solution to higher interest charges for Peace borrowing.

Resources Minister Williston, a director of Hydro, agreed an increase "might make sense."

Global TV Due in June

LONDON (Reuters) — Viewers in at least nine countries will be able to watch the world's first around-the-world television linkup by space satellite next June, a Soviet official said Friday.

Countries which have agreed to co-operate are Canada, the U.S., Britain, Poland, Russia, Australia, Japan, Mexico and India.

Bonner-Backing Mayor May Carry Tory Banner

By WILLIAM THOMAS

It was crisp and cool Friday in Cariboo but the political climate would have ripened wet hay.

Cowboys and ranchers from all over the vast, sprawling riding gathered at Barlow Siding near Quesnel for a cattle sale but Robert Bonner's chances topped beef prices as a talking point while the boys sipped rum-stiffed coffee.

With the ink hardly dry on the writ for the Nov. 28 by-election the issue is already clear. Can an outsider—even of cabinet rank—carry the day?

POSITION CLEAR

Feeling is running high and, during Friday afternoon, more than 30 men wandered into the office of Quesnel Mayor Alex Fraser urging him to oppose Mr. Bonner's bid for the seat vacated by William Speare.

Mayor Fraser said: "I want to get my position clear. I am in favor of Bonner

but the reaction is violent from the guy on the street. "The people who are in from the ranches for the cattle sale here are really mad. They are not mad at any one in particular but they insist they will just not vote for Bonner.

"Cariboo people are just a bunch of homers at heart and Bonner is an import. They just will not buy that package or at least that's what they are saying right now."

"The feeling is that once Bonner got elected he would not care about Cariboo, he has no interest in Cariboo and nobody is buying the puff that having a cabinet minister representing us is such a great thing."

BOTH HOUSES

Mayor Fraser said he has had "people coming in to see me and phoning me ever since Speare phoned the radio station to announce he was quitting. They want me to run but I will give my answer after I have thought about this. There is my business and family to consider."

The Fraser family is well-known in public life in Cariboo. The mayor's father, John Fraser, represented Cariboo in

Priests Plan Pub To Curb Drinking

SUDEBURY, Ont. (CP) — Two Anglican priests plan to open a pub near Laurentian University here next fall to teach students how to drink English-style.

Rev. Edward Fuller and Rev. Colin Clay want an equivalent of the famous Nag's Head Tavern in London in operation for the opening of the college next year.

Prices would be the same as in local beer parlors and cocktail lounges. The big difference, the priests say, would be that students would be encouraged to play cribbage, darts and checkers and make one beer last all evening.

"Present outlets tend to be booze-oriented, concerned more about consumption rather than people," Mr. Fuller, rector at a local church, said in an interview Friday.

Upper House Defeat Puts Skids Under Chancellor

BONN (Reuters) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, his face grey with fatigue, discussed with his depleted cabinet Friday the near-hopeless situation facing his government.

Four Free Democrat ministers walked out of the coalition cabinet Thursday, leaving the 10 West German state governments with their direct representation in the federal government and precipitating a crisis expected to lead to the chancellor's downfall.

Friday, the government suffered its first parliamentary defeat when the Bundestag (Upper House) threw out the 1967 budget.

The Bundestag provides the 10 West German state governments with their direct representation in the federal government and even the six Christian Democratic states joined in unanimously rejecting the budget.

For now Erhard is carrying on and he has asked ministers of his own party to take over the four vacant cabinet posts.

But Opposition Social Democratic sources said it is only a matter of time before the wheels of government grind to a halt over parliamentary resistance to the budget.

on and he has asked ministers of his own party to take over the four vacant cabinet posts.

WAY BLOCKED

The Bundestag (Lower House) will debate the budget Nov. 8 and the Social Democrats are bound to vote against it with the Free Democrats.

The combined opposition parties can muster 231 votes while the Christian Democrats have only 245 and the way to parliamentary approval is blocked.

Constitutionally, the Christian Democrats could carry on without a budget, with restricted spending and revenue powers sufficient to enable the government to fulfil essential obligations.

UN Requests Thant Stay

UNITED NATIONS (Reuters) — The Security Council adopted Friday a resolution asking U Thant to carry on as secretary-general until the current General Assembly session ends Dec. 20.

The 15-nation council, meeting in private, took only 15 minutes to reach the decision and issue an official communique.

The assembly will meet Tuesday to endorse the request.

LAURENTIDE HALTS PAYOUTS

By HARRY YOUNG, Business Editor

The most profound shock to-hit the Canadian investment field since the collapse of Atlantic Acceptance last year, came late on Friday when Laurentide Financial Corporation suspended payment on all its preferred and common shares.

The news broke just shortly before the close of the eastern markets and the common and the five classes of preferred stock had hardly time to reflect the market opinion of the situation.

On the Vancouver Exchange, which remains open for an extra 90 minutes, Laurentide common stock dropped from $5.50 to $3.50 and there was little or no bidding for the preferred shares.

NO ASSURANCE

A statement by the Vancouver-based finance company said that dividends had been suspended until earnings improved. This was not expected to happen before the end of the current fiscal year, which is next year.

No assurance was given that the dividends would be resumed at that time.

LOSSES RECORDED

In its last fiscal year ended June 30, Laurentide recorded a loss of nearly $10,000,000, against a net profit of $3,700,000 the previous year.

Earlier the firm had been saved when control was taken over by Power Corporation of Canada. It ousted Peter Paul Saunders and Andrew Saxton from the top seats in Laurentide and instituted new accounting practices which wiped out many of the paper assets claimed by the old management.

Further, Power Corporation of Canada injected about $9,000,000 of its own money into the Laurentide stream in return for 3,000,000 subordinated common shares.

Despite this assistance, Laurentide directors have decided that for the meantime at least there will be no dividends on the common or preferred stock.

All-Church Summit On War?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Methodist Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of Philadelphia said Friday there is a possibility that world church leaders, including Pope Paul, might meet to discuss the Viet Nam fighting.

"I think it would be a great advantage to our country and the world confessional bodies which would produce a statement on peace," Bishop Corson said.

He returned Thursday night after meeting the Roman Catholic pontiff at the Vatican.

Russia, Arabs Stall Action In Border Row

From UPI

With a new border incident rumbling in the background, a Soviet-Arab coalition Friday night forced the United Nations Security Council to adjourn without taking action on Israel's complaint of Syrian aggression.

A Jerusalem report said rail service from three Israeli cities was cancelled Friday because of an Arab Commando attack which brought tension to a new high along the country's borders with its Arab neighbors.

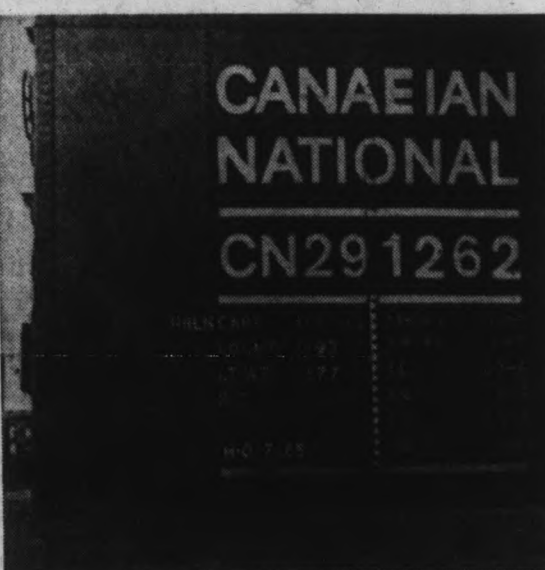

The blasting of a Jerusalem Tel Aviv freight train on the tracks only a mile from the Jordan frontier spurred Israel to demand immediate action by the United Nations to prevent a worsening of the crisis.

At the Security Council meeting, Russia appeared intent on stalling the debate from the start, and Jordan further complicated matters by demanding that Secretary-General Thant supply a full report on the Middle East demilitarized zone.

In view of the 20-year border dispute, Thant warned, this might take months to fulfill.

The Security Council meanwhile recommended to the General Assembly that it extend Thant's term of office to the end of the current session, scheduled to end Dec. 20. His term of office expires next Thursday.

Riddle on Rails

Town Marshal vs. Town Treasurer

Shoot-Out Over Sewer Bill

FORT GIBSON, Okla. (UPI) — The state of Oklahoma took its 60-year-old anti-dueling law out of mothballs Friday against a town treasurer and a town marshal, accused of shooting it out over a $6,600 sewer bill.

But Fort Gibson treasurer Richard H. (Pete) McLemore denied it.

"That was no damn duel," McLemore said. "I was ambushed from behind a magnolia tree."

in front of his home "caused my heart condition to act up."

Both Scott, 32, and McLemore were charged with dueling and challenging for a duel. Fort Gibson Mayor Bill Bennett was charged with being an accessory to a duel because he allegedly carried the guns away from the battle site.

McLemore was also charged with shooting with intent to kill.

McLemore said he was "ambushed" as he prepared to leave for his job as a glass factory security guard.

"He shot about 20-25 times at me," McLemore said. "He was just spraying all around and I don't know how he kept from hitting me."

McLemore said after the first burst of gunfire "I cut down on him with a shotgun I keep in my car. I never shot at his head. I shot for the bulk of him."

McLemore said he also thought three other shots came from another assailant.

"It was a planned attempt on my life," McLemore said. "This is just an old trouble," he added, launching into an explanation of rough-and-tumble Fort Gibson politics dating back nearly 20 years to his days as town marshal and constable in the northeastern Oklahoma town of 1,000.

The latest "trouble" began last January when McLemore refused to pay a $6.60 sewer bill because his home was not connected to the sewer line.

The city later shut off McLemore's water, forcing him to drill a well. In addition to months of legal manoeuvring, the dispute has included McLemore's arrest, threats and reported gun-waving incidents between the treasurer and marshal.

Assistant Muskogee county attorney Mike Kelly said the state law against dueling had been on the books "about 60 years" but that the last dueling charge filed was in 1924.

Bonner Backer a Rival?

the legislature from 1909 to 1912 and then spent the years from 1925 to 1930 as a member of Parliament.

Alex Fraser has never been defeated since Quesnel became a town in the early 50s and before that he was chairman of the village commission.

Alex Fraser has been urged to seek both federal and provincial office frequently in the past 10 years, but has so far declined. He is a close friend of E. Davie Fulton.

Mr. Fulton is expected in Cariboo early next week and speculation has it Mr. Fraser will speak with the ranking Conservative MP before announcing his decision.

Queried about his chances in the byelection, Mr. Fraser said:

"I am all for Bonner but the people who have been to see me are convinced he is going to be defeated and that we are going to end up with an NDP member. They say to me, 'You, Alex Fraser, are not going to just sit here and let that happen are you?' — so what can I do?"

Nobody is sure on what ticket Mr. Fraser might run if he does decide to enter the contest. He is a Conservative and has aided that party by speaking in a number of federal campaigns but has cold-shouldered a provincial affiliation.

AS INDEPENDENT
His companion on Quesnel town council, Ald. Geal Tingley, suggested Mayor Fraser might run as an independent.

Mr. Tingley is a past president of the Cariboo Conservative Association and has been an unsuccessful candidate for provincial office.

He hinted there are a number of Cariboo political figures who would like to see all parties withdraw in favor of one man running as an independent in opposition to Mr. Bonner.

CHETWYND DEATH
This has been hinted in every election since Mr. Speare took the seat for the Socialists following the death of Ralph Chetwynd in 1957.

Mr. Tingley added, "Liberal leader Ray Perrault has phoned Alex Fraser trying to get him to run as a Liberal but I guess that did not go."

Conservative leader Stuart Fleming said from his Vernon home, "We are very interested in having a candidate in this byelection."

DEALS REFUSED
Mr. Fleming, recovering from flu, explained he was not interested in any possible "deals."

"I know of a number of political figures who are no longer around because they got sucked into some kind of a deal. We want no deals in Cariboo."

known that while our peace-keeping forces have been at work in Cyprus both the Greek- and Turkish-Cypriots have added significantly to their arsenals.

Also deleted was the admiral's statement that Soviet vessels lying off the coasts of North America are "spies on our doorstep."

References to personnel which were deleted included: In 1965, only 70 per cent of the number of needed recruits was obtained; there had been a "significant" decline in re-engagements and consequently a serious loss of senior men;

The current loss rate of about 45 men a month would make it necessary to reduce six or seven destroyers to maintenance crews by May, 1967.

Substituted for these deletions were such sentences as: "With the complex equipment we are operating today we require a man who can absorb and utilize highly technical skills."

Terry Nugent (PC-Edmonton-Strathcona) has accused Mr. Hellyer of "tampering" with Admiral Landymore's evidence.

He also said four pages of the admiral's brief were deleted and two "innocuous" pages substituted.

Single Basic Fatty Fact: Eating Exceeds Energy

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: I am overweight. I don't eat very much but it could be heredity as my grandmother (mother's mom) is overweight, too. My dad said it could be glands. If it is glands, what could be done to lose weight? I am 11 years old.

—OLGA

The reasons why some people get fat and others don't are very complicated, but they all come down to a single basic fact: If you eat more than you use up in energy, you get fat.

Why do some people eat more? Why do some use up less energy? Those are the questions to consider.

SLIGHT PART
You say, my young friend, that you "don't eat very much." Are you sure? After all, you obviously DO eat more than you need, or you wouldn't be overweight.

Your Good Health

Heredity may play a slight part in eating habits. But most doctors (including me) believe that it is very slight when compared with the eating habits we acquire while young. Maybe your grandmother, being hefty herself, subtly taught you to like the things that make people fat — sweet stuff of all kinds plus (and this is even more important) those containing fats (more calories than sugar). That's why pastry is so fattening. It contains both sugar and fat. A piece of fruit or some gelatin for dessert is much better for you.

Do you eat between meals? What about candy bars and pop? Do you raid the icebox? My advice is to eat three solid meals a day but to take a hard look at desserts and between-meals nibbling.

HOOR OR TWO

Now how about burning up the energy in your food? Usually the overweight person, perhaps just because he is too heavy, doesn't get much exercise. He'd rather sit. And sometimes he sits and eats! An hour or two of good brisk exercise every day can make a lot of difference.

A metabolism test should come pretty close to settling the question of whether glands are involved. If that is the problem, then pills will help.

Laurentide Dividend-Halt Jolts Market

The five preferred issues have a par value of about $28,000,000. Affected by the no-dividend decision are 33,476 $20 par 6 1/2 per cent preferred; 16,640 $20 par 5 1/4 per cent preferred; 349,350 $20 par $1.25 preferred; 261,665 $25 par $1.40 preferred and 278,324 $38 par $2 preferred, and 2,127,292 common shares.

The common shares have paid 40 cents a year since the March 1966 payment, and previously the rate was 80 cents a year. The common stock, which began trading at about $20, crashed to $7 when the dividend was cut and latterly it has been trading in the $5-$6 range.

Laurentide Financial Corporation was one of three groups which recently applied to Parliament for a bank charter. It withdrew the application some time ago after being given a favorable reception by the Senate banking and finance committee.

A Victoria investment dealer said: "There is very little doubt that the suspension of dividends on the cumulative preferred shares of Laurentide is a complete surprise, and it is bound to have an effect on investment thinking in finance company shares."

The dividend suspension news was announced at the annual general meeting of Laurentide in Vancouver by M. L. Goeglein, president. The new Laurentide worries came from a "higher than anticipated loss in the U.S. consumer loan operation."

'Viet Nam Solution Rests With U.S.'

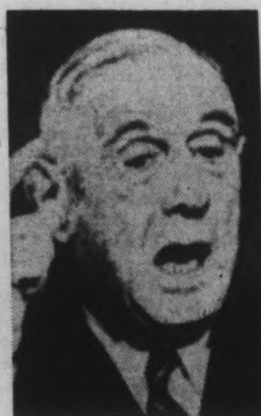

PARIS (AP) — President de Gaulle insisted Friday that the U.S. should get out of Viet Nam. He said the war cannot be won militarily and can only lead to heavier expense and mounting criticism.

The 75-year-old French president said his advice is in the spirit of friendship. But, he said, he finds it "absolutely detestable for a little people to be bombarded by a very great nation." It is up to the U.S. to make the first moves for bringing an end to "this deadly enterprise."

WITHDRAW

De Gaulle said peace in Viet Nam depends on Washington's acceptance of the principle of self-determination for the Vietnamese people.

"They have only to observe

the principle that each people should settle their own affairs in their own manner and by their own means. The Americans have only to apply this principle to the Vietnamese people. They have only to withdraw, bit by bit, the forces which they sent to Viet Nam after the departure of our (French) forces."

De Gaulle addressed about 800 reporters at the Elysee Palace in his semi-annual news conference.

LAUDS FRENCH ROLES

He upheld the rightness of French foreign policy. He lauded French independence—American domination—which is the cornerstone of his actions. He chided West Germany for being more friendly to the U.S. than to France. He cautioned French voters they had better give his supporters a majority in next spring's legislative elections or risk seeing the country slip back into disorder.

De Gaulle seemed to be giving his advice mainly to Americans. Calling out the list of the most prickly disputes between France and the U.S., he said:

USEFUL FOR EVERYONE

"It seems that what we are undertaking, and the attitudes that we are taking, are finally useful for everyone, and especially our American friends. What we are saying and doing for Viet Nam, or for NATO, or for the monetary system, I very sincerely think it would be to their advantage to want it, and to do it themselves."

He said that "in five months, no headquarters, no unit, no base of any allied (NATO) army will remain on our territory." He also said the U.S. must recognize that no treaty and no settlement can be valid in Asia without the participation of China.

Johnson Appeals To foe

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — President Johnson today implored North Viet Nam to come to the peace table and promised that as soon as the Vietnamese conflict ends "it will be possible to devote substantially greater funds to the relief of human need."

Johnson made the plea during a 10-minute speech at Chulalongkorn University on the second day of his visit to Thailand.

The president also announced he plans to sign into law before he leaves Asian soil, a recently-passed international education act that would create a centre for international study.

Camp Welcomes Toronto Rival

TORONTO (CP) — Dalton Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative party, said here he welcomes Toronto lawyer Arthur Maloney as a rival.

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas were blamed today for igniting the earth-shaking explosion of an ammunition dump 12 miles from Saigon that killed at least two U.S. soldiers and injured five Friday night.

A U.S. spokesman said the casualty count might go higher after examination of the wreckage and a check of army rosters.

MOTOR PATROL

The spokesman said an American motor patrol inside the supply area serving two U.S. divisions was attacked by unidentified persons and reinforcements were sent in.

The reinforcements reported fires burning between the stacks of ammunition and three rounds of mortar fire hitting the area. Two minutes later came the big blast that broke windows as far away as Saigon.

The explosion blew a 40-foot crater in one ammunition storage place and scattered eight-inch howitzer rounds throughout the area, the spokesman said. Howitzer rounds are not fused.

TRIGGERED OTHERS

The first blast, which sent up a huge ball of fire, was followed by a series of secondary explosions. The spokesman said the fires were brought under control within 30 minutes.

Large numbers of American troops are stationed in the area, just off the main highway from Saigon to Cap St. Jacques. There also is a large American hospital there.

Norwegians Rattle Sub

OSLO (Reuters) — Norwegian naval vessels dropped warning depth charges Friday near what was believed to be an unidentified submarine inside territorial waters, a spokesman for the joint chiefs of staff said Friday night.

Blazing Oriskany spews smoke

Bombs Hurlled from Burning Carrier

Crew Blocks Ship Blast

SUBIC BAY (AP)—The U.S. aircraft carrier Oriskany, now in the Philippines naval base, came perilously close to being blown out of the Gulf of Tonkin by its own bombs when it caught fire Wednesday, it was learned Friday.

But a band of sailors, some in their teens, saved the ship. They stood their ground against white-hot flames and threw about 300 bombs into the sea.

Capt. John H. Larobino of Newton, Mass., the skipper, credited his crew with a fantastic feat in getting rid of 500-pound, 1,000-pound and 2,000-pound bombs which lay within reach of flames darting through the hangar deck.

The flames-scarred Oriskany, veteran of more than 10 months of war off North-Viet Nam, reached this base Friday for repairs.

To the melancholy notes of the Last Post, the carrier sent the bodies of 43 of its crew—35 officers and eight other men who died in the fire—to the U.S. for burial.

A civilian construction supervisor, George C. Oaklund, looked at the damage to the 45,000-ton carrier and said repairs could take two or three months.

The carrier Coral Sea has taken Oriskany's station off Viet Nam.

Departing Chief Of UBC Fires at Ottawa

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. John B. Macdonald, who Tuesday announced his resignation as president of the University of British Columbia, said Friday the federal government is shirking its responsibilities in the field of higher education.

Macdonald

Dr. Macdonald made the comment on his return from Ottawa, where he attended a conference of university authorities held at the same time federal-provincial finance conference there.

He said that under the federal government's proposed new system of financing higher education, the provinces will be left to themselves to distribute federal grants.

changes in the presidency are a good and healthy thing.

His resignation becomes effective next June.

Dr. Macdonald repeated his hope that he will obtain a new position in some type of organization devoted to advising governments on the allocation of funds for higher education.

He said he has had a number of offers in Canada, including two in the kind of work in which he is interested.

University Leaders:

Must Be More For Research

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian university executives ended their annual convention Friday with a repeated appeal to Prime Minister Pearson for higher research grants.

A resolution reaffirming the immediate need for enlarged federal research support won unanimous approval by the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada.

ANNUAL INCREASE

The resolution says such investment increases productivity and acts as a bulwark against inflation. It called for annually increased grants to the National Research Council, the Canada Council and the medical research council.

The AUCC also gave unanimous support to resolutions calling for greater collaboration between universities in Canada and Latin America, a study of recent university construction projects with a view to assisting administrators on campus planning and increased efforts to entice some of the 12,000 Canadian students abroad to return home.

SERVE AS BUFFERS

Earlier administrators disagreed on the need for impartial committees to serve as buffers between the provincial governments and the educational institutions in the allocation of government grants.

Dr. E. P. Sheffield, former research director for the organization, said provincial governments will need to be assured that the funds are spent wisely. He urged the association to strive to create effective buffer agencies.

DIRECT PRESSURE

On the other hand, Dr. J. W. T. Spinks, president of the University of Saskatchewan, argued that universities should be free to put direct pressure on the education departments for funds they require.

He was supported by Dr. P. D. McTaggart-Cowan, president of Simon Fraser University, who said the education minister had to compete with other cabinet ministers for his budget and must know clearly what the universities want.

FEAR REGIMENTATION

Dr. J. A. Corry, president of Queen's, said that system would only be satisfactory if universities were ready to accept the conformity that applied in other branches of government.

If universities wished to maintain their autonomy and their divergent character, then the buffer committee system was preferable, he said.

SERIOUS CONCERN

Dean Maxwell Cohen of McGill claimed the "new Pearson formula" of not policing federal grants to the provinces for education should raise serious concern among educationists.

Dr. Walter H. Johns, president of the University of Alberta, was elected president, succeeding Msgr. L. A. Vachon, rector of Laval University, Quebec.

Prisoners' Court-Martial

Officer Recalls Trial

HAMILTON (CP)—Frank Trmal of Hamilton, a former German naval officer, said Thursday he witnessed the May 13, 1945, court martial of two German naval ratings, executed for desertion after the end of the Second World War.

Mr. Trmal, a naval lieutenant, said the court martial of Bainer Beck 28, and Bruno Dorfer, 20, at Camp Zaandam, 10 miles from Amsterdam, took 15 minutes.

He did not see the execution, but the day after the court martial "a Canadian army truck with a selected group of men in it drove up and the two men, their hands bound behind their backs, were placed in the truck and driven away."

DIDN'T SEE DRIVER

"I knew it was a Canadian truck, but I could not see the driver to see if he was a German and I did not see the guns."

The trial and execution of the two German sailors was reported in the Sept. 12 issue of the West German news magazine, Der Spiegel. The magazine later quoted officers and a judge who contended the trial was ordered by Canadian Army officers.

Defence Minister Hellyer told the Commons Oct. 11 that he was satisfied there was no foundation to the magazine's allegations that the incident was inspired by Canadians or that the German military court did not have proper jurisdiction.

Mr. Trmal said the court martial was held under the commandant of the camp. He said Canadian authorities should not be responsible for the commander's actions.

He decided to tell about the court martial because "the stories that are coming out are rather twisted as to what did happen."

He said Beck and Dorfer turned themselves over to the Dutch police on or about May 11, 1945.

UNDER GERMANS

"There were about 2,000 of us at the camp and all of us were sailors."

The commandant announced the next morning that the two men were to be court-martialled and that he had confirmed the German POW still were under the jurisdiction of the German military.

The defence lawyer asked for leniency, but after about three minutes discussion, the ratings were sentenced to be shot.

"Everyone was shocked and I heard one of the guards later that afternoon telling the two condemned men that it was just a routine and that they could not be shot because they were prisoners-of-war in the hands of the Canadians."

UN Membership

Red China Support Advocated by Tory

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Heward Graffey, an Opposition member of Parliament who has been serving on the Canadian UN delegation, said Friday he believes the time has come for Canada to support Communist China's admission to the United Nations.

Graffey (PC—Brome-Missisquoi), returns to Ottawa next week after spending two weeks as a parliamentary observer with the Canadian delegation at the current UN General Assembly session.

He said in a statement that conversations he has had at UN headquarters in New York and earlier in Washington have convinced him that many Americans would "almost welcome a clear initiative" on the part of Canada on the Chinese UN question. It was "nonsense" to think this would be a Canadian knife in the U.S. back.

ATTITUDE PUZZLING

He has also found, he said, that many UN delegations are puzzled as to Canada's real attitude towards China and this could lessen Canada's effectiveness in the world body.

The question of Communist Chinese membership will probably come up in the General Assembly late in November.

GIVE UP SEAT

There is a nine-country motion before the Assembly to admit Peking's representatives to China's UN seat. If the motion were successful, it would oblige the Nationalist Chinese to yield the seat and seek another as representatives of Formosa, the only area that has been under their jurisdiction since the Communists won the Chinese Civil War in 1949.

SIDES WITH U.S.

"It is my firm impression that the United Nations cannot long continue as a truly meaningful Assembly without the presence and membership of this large power," Graffey said.

In Paris Wednesday, Canada voted in support of a U.S. motion to keep Nationalist Chinese delegates in and Communist Chinese delegates out of the UN Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. A number of non-Communist countries, including NATO members Denmark and Norway and the big Asian powers of India and Indonesia, voted against the U.S. motion.

Australia Kiddled

Kangaroo Rustle, Sheep Shred Princely Story

GLASGOW, Scotland (Reuters) — Prince Charles quoted himself Friday as kidding Australians he was an expert kangaroo rustler.

The 17-year-old heir to the British throne said that during his stay at Timber-Top school in Australia this year, "I told them we performed this art by creeping up behind the kangaroos, grabbing them by the tail and flicking them over onto their backs where you had them at your mercy."

Writing in Gordonsoun (Scotland) school magazine, Charles said he tried shearing sheep at Timber-Top, near Geelong, but "I made rather a mess of it and left a somewhat shredded sheep."

His article was entitled Timber-Top—Or Beating About The Bush.

The Prince said Timber-Top students never stopped running for one minute of the day, from 7:30 a.m. till 9:15 p.m.

CHOPPED WOOD

"There is a lot of wood-chopping done, but I am afraid it's essential as the boilers have to be stoked with logs. The first week I was there I was made to go out and chop up logs on a hillside in boiling hot weather. I could hardly see my hands for blisters after that."

"Each afternoon after classes, which ended at 3 o'clock, there are jobs like chopping and splitting wood, feeding the pigs, cleaning out fly traps — which are revolting glass bowls seething with flies and very ancient meat — or picking up bits of paper round the school."

Red Boots Walk On Water

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow radio reported Friday that Russians have developed a completely effective vaccine against measles and invented boots for walking on water.

It said the vaccine has none of the undesirable side effects experienced with previous serums and that mass inoculations will start this year.

The boots, credited to a Soviet engineer, resemble "miniature, self-closing umbrellas" that "open up when you step on a liquid surface and close when the foot is lifted," the broadcast said.

"A layer of air forms under the umbrella boot and keeps the wearer from sinking. The new boots are ideal for slushing around swamps."

WHAT IS THE FAIR SHARE PIN? A small, gold emblem, in the shape of a check mark, or a square blue pin embossed with the letters F/S. Both indicate that the wearer is proud of his community and wants to make it an even better place in which to live. WHAT IS A FAIR SHARE GIFT? Only the contributor can decide what his or her gift should be. However, to the many who ask for guidance the suggestion is made that a Fair Share Gift for employees is one day's pay a year, and for executives and professional men, one per cent of annual income.

Asian Capitals Unhappy

TOKYO (UPI) — A wave of apprehension over China's on-target explosion of a rocket-delivered nuclear warhead swept Asian capitals Friday, but nearby Formosa with its U.S. atomic shield did not appear disturbed.

Citizens of China itself danced in the streets of Peking, beating drums and gongs in praise of chairman Mao Tse-tung.

Although Formosa lies less than 100 miles east of mainland China — easy distance for even short-range missiles — President Chiang Kai-shek was reported still determined to topple the Peking regime.

The people of Taipei apparently were undisturbed by the Red Chinese feat because of their confidence in the Washington-Taiwan defence treaty.

'PROVOCATIVE ACT'

A spokesman for the Philippine foreign office called the missile launching a "provocative act" dangerous to peace and security.

There was concern in South Korea and South Viet Nam. India and Thailand also were disturbed.

Peking Radio reported Chinese celebrated the feat in the streets of Peking. "Great num- and gongs, waved red streamers and shouted 'Long Live Chair- man Mao,'" the broadcast said.

Chinese Won't Stop Washington Predicts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Friday deplored China's latest nuclear explosion as polluting the atmosphere "in defiance of world opinion."

But the statement predicted Red China would conduct further tests.

Official U.S. reaction was made known by the state department one day after China announced it had successfully tested a nuclear warhead carried to its target by a guided missile.

A U.S. source said Peking's claim did not represent any "fundamental" change in the strategic balance of power in Asia or in U.S. commitments there.

Coat of Arms Removed By Tories

OTTAWA (CP) — Removal of the Canadian coat of arms from newspaper advertisements of the public works department was done by the former Conservative government, Works Minister McIlraith told the Commons Thursday.

Liberal MPs pounded their desks and roared with glee.

The minister, replying to a question posed Wednesday by John Loney (PC-Bruce), said he had found that instructions to newspapers deleting the coat of arms from ads for contract tenders went out in 1959.

Up-Islander Fined In Sooke

William Thomas of Courtenay was fined in Sooke court Friday $35 on each of two counts of false pretences. He pleaded guilty.

He was also placed on a $300 bond for two years.

The cheques, returned marked insufficient funds, were passed in Sooke in March.

Russian Blast Biggest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union set off Thursday the biggest underground nuclear blast ever recorded, American officials reported Friday.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said seismic signals showed a detonation in the intermediate- to high-yield range — meaning it approached the equivalent of 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

Intermediate yield in the AEC's terminology covers the range from 200,000 to 1,000,000 tons.

LARGER THAN U.S.

By way of comparison, the atmospheric nuclear shot announced Thursday by China was recorded in the low to low-intermediate range, or possibly as little as one-fiftieth the force of the Soviet explosion. Low yield is 20,000 tons or less, about the force of the Hiroshima bomb.

None of the U.S. underground tests at the AEC's Nevada proving grounds has been reported at more than half the force of the Soviet shot.

GM Joins Electric Race With Car Plus Truck

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors, the world's largest manufacturer, said Friday, it also is knee-deep in developing an electric car.

It made the announcement less than one month after the Ford Motor Co. unveiled a "breakthrough" battery development in its work along the line. But GM went one step farther.

Where Ford's experimentation has thus far been restricted only to a battery, GM rolled out a complete experimental electric car, and a truck to boot.

SILVER-ZINC BATTERY

The car was housed in a 1966 Corvair chassis and dubbed the Electrova II. A silver-zinc battery pack was lodged under the hood, normally the luggage area in the Chevrolet economy model. A second pack was under the rear hood, above an alternating current engine.

The Electrova II was demonstrated at GM's Tech Centre in suburban Warren. It zipped quietly from a standing start to 60 miles an hour in 15 seconds and reached top speeds of 80. It weighs 800 pounds more

Sheppard Jury Set

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A permanent jury of eight men and four women was seated Friday to decide whether Dr. Samuel Sheppard is guilty of murdering his first wife, a crime for which he has spent nearly 10 years in prison.

Testimony in the case could begin Monday after two alternate jurors are selected and the state and defense make opening statements.

than the conventional Corvair. With the silver-zinc battery, a hybrid based on the old lead-acid batteries found under the hood of every car, the Electrova can run only 40 to 80 miles before it must be recharged.

GM said the battery was "very costly" and must be replaced after 100 charges.

Ford's battery is a revolutionary sodium-sulphur concept aimed at a longer range and longer life than the conventional type power plants. Ford will begin testing a car, powered by this battery, in England early next year.

Huge Tanker

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Yamahide Maru, one of the largest tankers ever to dock here, has arrived to take delivery of the first propane shipment from the Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line Co.'s new $4,000,000 propane terminal.

Colombia, U.S. Aid Flame-Swept City

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Colombia mobilized its resources Friday to give emergency relief aid to the Panama border city of Quibdo, virtually destroyed by a nine-hour fire which left 10,000 people homeless.

The U.S. joined a "mercy flight" with aircraft from the Panama Canal zone flying relief supplies to the Choco province capital. Members of the U.S. military mission in Colombia flew to the scene to determine what aid is needed.

New Duty-Free Imports Barred from Studebaker

OTTAWA (CP)—The Studebaker Co. of Canada is barred from bringing any more duty-free cars into Canada under the Canada-U.S. auto pact, Revenue Minister Benson said Friday.

In an interview, he described as wrong a suggestion in the Commons Thursday by NDP Leader Douglas that Studebaker might be able to import another 75,000 Volkswagens duty-free under the pact.

The company lost its rights to bring in cars as soon as it stopped making cars in Canada, he said.

Opposition members have criticized the government for not preventing a deal under which Studebaker, before it folded, imported 10,000 Volkswagens duty-free and then resold them to Volkswagen of Canada.

Mr. Benson also said that an investigation by his audit division into that deal has been completed. Officials now were studying with the justice department whether duty should have been paid.

He said the investigation started several months ago and was completed in September.

Mr. Benson told the House Thursday that the auto agreement permits a car make to import cars duty-free if its Canadian production is increased by a matching amount.

Studebaker had chosen to import Volkswagens because its parent company in the U.S. had stopped production.

He said Studebaker claimed to have fulfilled terms of the pact. The investigation was to determine whether or not it actually had done so.

Critical Shortage of Butter Facing Canada in Spring

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will face a critical butter shortage by next spring unless stocks are imported soon, an agriculture department spokesman said Friday.

Diminishing of butter stocks will continue until after Christmas. Without imports, stocks will drop to less than a two-week supply by April 1.

Canadians use about 1,000,000 pounds of butter a day. Estimated stocks under present consumption would be less than 15,000,000 pounds by April 1, and marketing channels alone need 20,000,000 pounds in circulation.

If current price trends are to be maintained additional supplies will be essential, the spokesman added.

This year is the third in a row that consumption has out-paced production.

B.C. Begging for Talent

The provincial government is begging for talent at a time when B.C.'s unemployment rate is the second-highest in Canada.

NOT AVAILABLE

The hitch is that the government wants to hire specialists who apparently are not available among the thousands out of work.

Arthur Richardson, chief personnel officer for the Civil Service Commission, says that through last August and September the government advertised approximately 200 job opportunities.

OTHERS STILL OPEN

Roughly half that number has been filled and the other jobs are still open to those who wish to apply at the commission's office at 544 Michigan Street, he said.

"These jobs are for specialists professional or technical people — and there is still a shortage of these people," Mr. Richardson said.

NONE QUALIFIED

For example, none of the applicants for an engineering post and two technician jobs on the provincial Pollution Control Board was suitably qualified and all three jobs are still available, he said.

There are a few minor exceptions, one involving the hiring of a man to establish a province-wide program of hunting licence testing and firearms safety controls.

"We had a large number of applicants for this job and we are still in the process of sorting applications," said Mr. Richardson.

Asked whether the government's post-election austerity measures have cancelled any job opportunities, he replied:

"There's been some, yes, mainly in the administrative field. But I wouldn't say there's been much of a cutback."

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics announced Wednesday B.C.'s 29,000 jobless total in September was 10,000 higher than in September, 1965.

Vancouver to Tanzania

Homeless African Leaving Anyway

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian immigration department will fly ship-jumper Abdul Rahman home to Tanzania today — whether the Tanzanian government wants him or not.

Mr. Rahman, for three months Vancouver's man without a country, has been in an immigration department cell since mid-July, two months after he jumped the Greek ship Dora here May 13.

INDEPENDENT STATE

His complex story started several years ago when the British crown colony of Tanganyika in East Africa became an independent state.

Mr. Rahman left his native land a Tanganyikan a few years earlier with a British passport, to sail on merchant ships. While at sea, his passport expired, Tanganyika became Tanzania, and to make matters worse, the Tanzanian government severed relations with Great Britain.

The immigration department was in a quandary when it arrested him after he left the Dora. He was let out of the immigration cells on compassionate grounds, but failed to reappear and was arrested again.

Friday, the department decided to put him on a jet for Tanzania, and let the Tanzanians figure out what to do with him.

CN goes on the 24-hour clock system

EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 30. CN's passenger train time table will indicate departure and arrival times based on the 24-hour clock, instead of the usual a.m.—p.m. system.

Here's an easy way to remember how the 24-hour clock system works: from midnight till 12:59 p.m. the time is as you know it now. One a.m. is 0100 hours... 8:15 a.m. is 0815 hours... 12:55 p.m. is 1255 hours.

All the changes are from one p.m. on. For instance—one o'clock p.m. becomes 1300 hours. 2:15 p.m. becomes 1415 hours. (A simple tip: for any time after 12:59 p.m. add 12 to the time shown on your watch. See chart).

Premiers Go Home'Exercise in Futility'

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson crushed the provinces' hopes for a last-minute boost in their tax-sharing deal
Friday at the close of the federal-provincial fiscal conference.

Frustrated premiers from Quebec, Ontario and the West left with no more than they had been promised at mid-week from federal resources.

Premier Robarts of Ontario said the talks had been "an exercise in futility." Premier Roblin of Manitoba said the national interest had suffered.

'QUITE HAPPY'

Mr. Pearson described himself as a defender of the Canadian taxpayer at a difficult conference. He was "quite happy with the result."

The federal estimate of new money to be made available to the provinces for the 1967-68 fiscal year is $350,000,000.

The components will be increased equalization payments, tax transfers to pay for higher education and phase-out payments to cover the federal retreat from programs of technical and vocational school construction.

All provinces wanted further general transfers of tax revenues, arguing that provincial commitments are growing more rapidly than federal programs.

Finance Minister Sharp ac-knowledgeed this trend but both he and Mr. Pearson denied at a news conference that official budgeting forecasts predict future federal surpluses and com-

Face Red Ink

OTTAWA (CP)—Combined provincial and municipal deficits totalling more than $2,000-000,000 by 1971-72 are suggested in budget projections released Friday after the federal provincial fiscal conference.

The projections anticipate that at the same time the federal government will have moved to a surplus position of between $325,000,000 and $725-000,000.

The predictions are subject to vast qualification, and the danger of public misinterpretation of their usefulness and meaning plagued deliberations of the conference this week.

The 10 premiers, saying the figures strengthened provincial demands for a big transfer of tax resources from the federal government, pressed for publication.

With release of the figures
Friday went a statement by federal Finance Minister Sharp noting they are "not forecasts of what will actually happen."

The projections, prepared by the continuing federal-provincial committee on tax structure, make these main points:

● Provincial and municipal expenditures to climb to between $16,000,000,000 and $16-250,000,000 by 1971-72, assuming an 8½ per cent annual growth rate and including programs already planned.

Federal expenditures to climb to between $12,750,000,000 and $13,000,000,000 by 1971-72, assuming a 6½ per cent annual growth rate.

● Provincial and municipal revenues to rise to between $12,500,000,000 and $14,000-000,000 by 1971-72, assuming present tax rates and a growth in the gross national product of six or seven per cent a year.

● Federal revenues to rise to between $13,000,000,000 and $13,750,000,000 by 1971-72, again assuming existing tax rates and the same GNP growth.

● Provincial and municipal deficits thus to increase from the current level of about $900,000,000 to between $2-100,000,000 and $2,400,000,000
by 1971-72.

● The federal position of approximate balance this year thus to turn into a surplus of $325,000,000 to $725,000,000 by 1971-72.

Cowichan Reaches Grid Finals

Tough at First, Patience Paid Off

DUNCAN — After only two years young businessmen Mel Massey and Bob Berry can honestly say their long-nurtured dream has become a reality.

BACK ROOM

In the fall of 1964, in a back room in the Commercial Hotel, Massey and Berry called together a group of football enthusiasts with the firm belief that the Cowichan Valley could support an entry in the VIFFL.

Several meetings later, it was decided to place an entry in the VIFFL in 1965 and an executive was formed.

Defensive halfback Marshall Starks summed up the Esks' attitude before the club tipped into a secluded hideaway after practice Friday night.

From the official formation of the club it has been a case of fine community support. Almost everyone in Duncan has helped in one way or another.

The first obstacles to be overcome were the raising of $4,000 to equip the club and the finding of playing facilities.

Cowichan School Board No. 63 came forward as the first on Vancouver Island to give approval for use by an outside organization of locker-room and field facilities for minor league football.

Public enthusiasm was now gaining momentum and radiation CKAY promoted a team-naming contest, with Cowichan Timbermen being chosen because it best represented local industry.

Biggest Decision, Wills Quits Dodgers

Wanted: Tickets

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Football fans, finding it difficult to secure tickets for Green Bay Packers games, found some degree of comfort in this advertisement in the Brown County Chronicle:

Packer player needs Packer tickets. Have several friends visiting from out of town for Nov. 6 Packer-Viking game in Green Bay. If you have tickets for sale, please call Henry Jordan.

Jordan is a veteran lineman for the Packers, champions of the National Football League.

That much done, club officials turned to the raising of funds. In February, 1965, a $10-a-plate dinner was held to bring in $1,300. An Easter basket-drive was held in April and with their parents driving them in the door-to-door selling project, team members managed to raise another $650.

This scheme proved such a success it was adopted this year.

Edmonton Thinks So

Calgary a Pushover

By The Canadian Press

Call Edmonton Eskimos bragging if you like, but they're out to prove Calgary Stampeders are a push-over.

Both clubs look horns here to night in a game that could see the Esks eat crow if they don't beat the cowboys into the Western Football Conference playoffs.

Defensive halfback Marshall Starks summed up the Esks' attitude before the club tipped into a secluded hideaway after practice Friday night.

Tonight's football game between Calgary Stampeders and Edmonton Eskimos will be televised over Channels 2 and 6 at 8 p.m., according to the networks concerned.

A Dollar a Game Committee Aim For Andy's Night

Hockey fans who go to Memorial Arena tonight to watch Victoria Maple Leafs play a Western Hockey League fixture against Los Angeles Blades will see in the lobby a new "booth" with a sign which will say something about an Andy Heberton Night at Memorial Arena on Nov. 30.

There will be someone in attendance and he, or she, will be accepting donations of one (1) dollar from fans for a special presentation to the popular Victoria winger on his "night."

The thought is to raise the sum of $1,000—one dollar for each consecutive scheduled game of hockey played by Heberton in a professional career which dates back to 1949.

The name of each donor will be taken and registered on a framed scroll which will be presented to Heberton in the feature presentation on Nov. 30.

ON ROAD

It had been hoped that the Western Hockey League schedule would call for Heberton playing his 1,000th consecutive game on home ice so that the event could be marked on the night that it happened. But Heberton is scheduled to play game No. 1,000 in Oakland on Nov. 12 and it has been decided to hold his "night" on Nov. 30.

FERGUSON HEADS

Decision was made at a meeting of interested hockey fans yesterday. Bill "Travel" Ferguson was named general chairman of the committee set up to plan the gala evening to commemorate a record unmatched in sports history.

Assurance of support has already been received from many city business firms and individuals but the chief item on Nov. 30 will be the presentation of a $1,000 Canada savings bond and the framed scroll with the names of supporting fans inscribed.

MAKE DONATIONS

Fans may make their donations at any Victoria home game between now and Nov. 16 or at Price and Smith, 652 Yates Street. They should be sure to leave their names, correctly spelled.

"This," said Ferguson yesterday, "just has to be the biggest night in at least modern Victoria hockey history. Heberton's record is an amazing one and his on-the-ice achievements have been matched off the ice. It's a pleasure to be able to help in something like this."

DURABLE

Heberton's hockey achievements include a record for durability completely unmatched in sport.

He hasn't missed a scheduled league game since 1952, when he started his third season with the Victoria Cougars.

Since then, he has set a National Hockey League record of 630 consecutive games—nine seasons without a miss, then returned to the WHL to play two more seasons without a miss and start a third. At the moment, he needs less than a season and a half to break Bill Davidson's WHL record of 553 consecutive games.

NO PLAYOFFS

Tonight's game will be his 994th consecutive league game. He actually reached 1,000 consecutive games last season but playoff games are not officially recognized in his consecutive-game streak.

21-GOAL AVERAGE

He scored 189 goals, an average of 21 a season, in his NHL career. He had an NHL high of 33 goals and was voted the winner of the Lady Byng Trophy for his play in the 1956-57 season.

In the WHL, where all but one of his eight seasons have been with a Victoria club, he has scored 209 goals and been credited with 209 assists in 480 games. He was all-star right-winger in 1955 and again in 1956.

Uvic Over Combos

University of Victoria Vikings powered their way to a 11-4 triumph over the Esquimalt Combos Friday in Esquimalt and District Hockey league play at Esquimalt Arena.

Ted Sarkisian scored three goals as Vikings led 2-0, and 6-3 after the first two periods. Bill Rudick added two goals to the University attack and Glen Harper, Brian Whitten, Jim Shkwarok, Terry Foreman and Paul Bion getting singles.

Combos were led by Ken Makwell with two goals. Playing coach Bunker Hill and Joe Tanner scored the others.

Gulls 0, Vancouver 1

A warning was given in Seattle last night when the rebuilt Los Angeles Blades thumped Seattle Totems, 4-0, in a Western Hockey League game played before 5,273 fans.

The Blades are at Memorial Arena tonight for their first tangle with the Maple Leafs and Victoria fans who remember the rag-tag Blades who were a dispirited team a season ago.

They have been added to a holdover nucleus which includes Willie O'Ree, Norm Johnson, Gerry Toppazzini, Buddy Boone, Leo Labine, Bill Orban, John Hendrickson and Howie Young.

Who is said to be playing some fine hockey for Flaman.

Meissner, McVie, Boone and Bobby Schmutz, another holdover, scored the goals last night and Jack Norris made 33 stops as the Blades came up with their second win of the season to gain a fourth-place tie.

OVERTIME WIN

In last night's other game, an overtime goal by Larry Cahan in Vancouver gave the Canucks a 1-0 win over the San Diego Gulls.

Cahan's goal came just five seconds after San Diego defenseman Jim Wilcox had drawn a penalty, the puck deflecting by brilliant Les Binkley off another San Diego defenceman.

Indians Capable Says Pearkes

In an address to the B.C. Historical Association, Mr. Pearkes singled out the community of Port Simpson as a progressive and modern village.

With a little ingenuity and drive, Indians can be — and some are — as progressive as any white men, Lieutenant-

Governor Pearkes said Thursday. (Port Simpson is located north of Prince Rupert at the mouth of the Ness River. It was one of numerous villages and communities recently visited by the Pearkes.) The lieutenant-governor had particular praise for this group because they had gone ahead and developed natural resources on the reserve area.

The Port Simpson Indians had built up their own lumber industry, supplying timber for use of the Indians — and they'd succeeded in raising $20,000 in two years to assist local children in obtaining a higher education.

Speaking in the Douglas Building cafeteria, Mr. Pearkes said he was well aware that many reserves did not have the natural resources to develop.

This, he said, was mainly the fault of the Indians' forebears who had shown no concern for the hinterland at the time reserve boundaries were being marked out.

Indians responsible for establishing boundaries were mainly concerned with having good water access and frontage. If they had had foresight, Mr. Pearkes said, they'd have been able to see the benefit of maintaining large tracts of timber.

Armed Men Crab $8,000

NEUFCHÂTEL, Que. (CP) — Three men, armed and masked, escaped Friday with $8,000 after halting a car carrying cash intended for workers in this suburb of Quebec City.

Famed Cellist Dies In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — World-famed cellist Ernst Friedlander, who chose to live in Vancouver despite his U.S. and world recording contracts, died Friday at 60.

Mr. Friedlander, who with his wife Marie moved to Canada from the U.S. because they "fell in love with the country," was first cellist with the Vancouver symphony and CBC chamber orchestras.

He was a former member of the Pro Arte string quartet and Vienna, Chicago, Indianapolis and Oklahoma orchestras.

Force Needed, Whites Warn

PRETORIA (Reuters) — The General Assembly's vote seeking to strip South Africa of its mandate over South-West Africa drew only silence from the government Friday.

Political observers speculated that when the government's reply is made it could be another, stronger, warning from Prime Minister John Vorster that South Africa will quit the United Nations unless it gets a fairer hearing there.

Vorster conferred with cabinet colleagues Friday about Thursday night's vote, an order for South Africa to get out of the territory it has administered for 46 years.

There was speculation that if there is no statement then, Vorster will give his government's reply at a National party rally he is to address in East London Tuesday.

ESTORIL, Portugal — This is the warm and sunny coast, 20 minutes from Lisbon. If you're footloose, if the cost of living is pressing you, consider this:

I have a beautiful, high-ceilinged room with modern bath in a converted mansion. (It's an estalagem — a small inn of 19 rooms.)

The private deck where I have morning coffee overlooks a garden and pine trees and red-tiled roofs down the hill to the blue Atlantic.

There's a small dining room and bar. The price for two is $9 a day — including breakfast and dinner with a bottle of excellent Portuguese wine thrown in.

Tips You Off

"We have been planning a Europe trip, cutting all corners, but the cost still seems more than we can afford."

"The trick is to find a cheap country — like Portugal — and melt into the economy. Movement kills your pocketbook. The in and out — the taxi to the airport. The tips. The tourist hotel is simply murder."

Base on one place (as I am doing now). Take side trips — you soon learn the bus or train system. Note my base living here is $20 a month for two. Moving it would cost me three to four times that — at best."

"Do we need hotel reservations in Europe at this time of year? We hate to be registered."

As of right now, the biggest hotels in Lisbon and Estoril say they have no vacancies. And this is not one of the BIG tourist countries. I'd say absolutely in the capital cities. From there you can reserve ahead in smaller towns."

"We would like to send some small European gifts for Christmas if we can order by mail."

A new Christmas mail order catalogue comes to you by writing Shannon Free Airport, Ireland. The biggest and best of the duty-free shops. They stock just about everything: Irish Tweeds, German binoculars, Swiss watches, French perfume. And they have a new shipping deal on liquor you could ask about.

"Are you supposed to tip the airline stewardess? We are first-time flyers."

No. There's a company rule against it. However, I've discovered some Europeans do — particularly executives on commuter runs (such as Glasgow-London.)

There is also general acceptance on the airlines that anything over $20 is a "gift."

and can be accepted. Bernard McDonough — (the American millionaire who turned Dromoland Castle, Ireland, into THE beautiful hotel of Europe) — always gives each stewardess a hundred dollar bill.

Asked if it was ever refused, McDonough said one American stewardess "maybe a new girl, was hesitant. She went up to ask the captain. She said: 'Captain, one of the passengers wants to give me $100. What shall I do?' The Captain said: 'Hurry back, and shine his shoes.'"

"After finishing school next year, we (five students) would like to go somewhere and live and do some amateur archaeology."

Most countries don't like to have foreigners spending on the landscape. (Though there's occasional bootleg work in Mexico.) In Costa Rica it's not hard to get permission to do some pre-Columbian grave digging — they've got so much of it. Be sure to turn in any gold. You can keep the stone and clay figures.

Ireland would be interested in a serious University effort to look into a two-mile stone fort ring. Probably Celtic. They'd like to have somebody dig and restore part of it the way it was originally. I walked around this a few weeks ago. It really is quite a thing.

"If we go to Mexico, can we work?"

Not for five years. Unless you invest $16,000 in your own business. Double that in Mexico City.

"What are the duty-free ports in the Caribbean?"

Nearly all — except Puerto Rico, Curacao, Virgin Islands, Jamaica are best stocked.

Trucks Crash Cost $4,000

Damage estimated at $4,000 was received by two trucks involved in a collision at Crease and Wascana at 5:20 p.m. Thursday. Saanich police identified one driver as Clayton P. Nixon, 35, of 71 Cadillac, and said the other truck was driven by a 17-year-old juvenile.

Luxury, Casbah Mingle

Colorful Tangier City of Contrasts

By GORDON IRVING

TANGIER, Morocco (CNS)—This city built on seven hills is the last promontory on the Atlantic and gateway to the Mediterranean.

It is a city of contrasts: the casbah, or native section, and exclusive neighborhoods of lavish homes, many owned by millionaires.

A favorite tourist spot is the Caves of Hercules, not far from the northwest point of Africa. Native guides show visitors through the low-hanging passages to the lairs of prehistoric man.

Thousands of millstones have been carved out of the solid rock face.

Near the mouth of the caves is the Atlantic, its breakers surging on yellow sands. Nearby are the ruins and excavations of an historic Phoenician fishing village.

The lighthouse of Cape Spartel, the northwestern tip of the African continent, was known as Appelludum (Cape of the Vines) to the Romans. The present lighthouse dates back to 1829.

Tangier has been, successively, a berber hamlet, a rich Phoenician trading post and a flourishing Carthaginian colony.

"At the beginning of our own era it was the capital of the Roman province of Mauritania," a government official told me.

"Pholomey, son of King Juba II, was his last monarch."

"The Roman influence stayed with it until the period of decadence in the 5th century when the Vandals and the Visigoths made their attacks."

Tangier's history through the centuries has been a stormy one. The Arabs occupied the city in 682 A.D. The Portuguese seized it in 1437. Then, through royal family alliances, King Philip II of Spain acquired it in 1578.

It was given as a dowry to Catherine de Braganza when she married Charles II of England so that, in 1661, the English flag flew over the casbah. Twenty years later the English were forced to withdraw.

In the 19th century Tangier became the diplomatic capital of Morocco and the centre of European intrigue, which later made it the locale of many novels and films. During the Second World War, it was a meeting place for secret agents. Today, still romantic, still mysterious, Tangier is an integral part of the Moroccan kingdom.

Many languages and dialects are heard in the streets. The chief languages are Arabic, French and Spanish.

Spanish flamenco blares from one cafe, the beat of rock 'n' roll from another. The odor of Arab spices mingles with the heavy smell of incense in the Indian shops.

Guides will show you the large white Moorish house in the casbah, the property of Barbara Hutton. One area of luxurious palaces and villas is called "The Mountain." It is the residential suburb of the city. At the summit is the residence of the governor.

American Express Travellers' Cheques

A "bargain trip" around the world can be an expensive disappointment.

The world on $16 a day

Prices for an all-inclusive, escorted 103-day voyage around the world with P&O start at just $1632 tourist. This comes to a moderate $16 a day ($20 in first class)—plus whatever you spend ashore. You may find "bargain trips" that cost less. But you see less. You're often rushed. And you're very likely to be disappointed.

31 thousand miles. 23 ports. Fully escorted. P&O's "Westward Ho! Round World Adventure" starts from Vancouver February 13. The voyage takes nearly three leisurely months and covers over 31 thousand miles, so you have plenty of time. Included in your fare is a 3-day overland tour of New Zealand, a week-long tour of France, and special sightseeing in every major port—all fully escorted. Among the places you will visit:

Hawaii, Fiji, Auckland, Wellington, Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Fremantle, Ceylon, India, Aden, Cairo, Malta, Marseilles, Nice, Monte Carlo, Paris, Le Havre, Bermuda, Florida, Nassau, Cristobal, Balboa, Acapulco, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Sail with the company who invented the word "posh"

In the old days, wealthy travellers sailing to and from India always reserved cabins on the shady side of the ship. P&O designated these accommodations as "P.O.S.H." (Port Out, Starboard Home). All ships are completely air-conditioned now, but "posh" remains a synonym for luxury. On your voyage around the world your liner will stock over 9,000 bottles of vintage wines. There will be a special chef aboard who does nothing but make pastry. And, to help you stay lazy, there will be a crewman for every two passengers. Your shipboard activities include swimming, deck quito, dancing, deck tennis, bingo, movies, horse races, and bridge. You can even spend the evening tavern-hopping!

You sail from Vancouver Feb. 13 aboard P&O's great white liner Iberia and return via the Arcadia — two of the "biggest bloomin'" ships sailing the seven seas." Prices start at $1632 tourist, $2167 first class. Send coupon for free brochure.

All fares in U.S. currency.

Cabinet Shuffle Indicated In Ontario?

TORONTO (CP)—Kelso Roberts, a political battler who twice ran for the Ontario Conservative leadership and lived up to the legislature and two ministries for 23 years, headed off the provincial cabinet Friday. Resignation of the 68-year-old lands and forests minister was announced at Ottawa by Premier John Roberts, attending the federal-provincial fiscal talks. The premier said he would accept it shortly.

Only reason given by Mr. Roberts for his resignation was that "the time has come for me to turn my talents and efforts in other directions." There was no indication whether he would run again for the legislature. His Toronto riding of St. Patrick will disappear at the next election in a redistribution. No successor was named and there was speculation that this would be part of a major cabinet shuffle that has been in the wind for months.

OLDER MINISTERS

Prominent subjects of these reports have been Provincial Treasurer James Allan, dean of the cabinet at 71; Mines Minister George Wardrope, 67, and Welfare Minister Louis Cecile, 61.

Speculation is that Mr. Wardrope, who has a strong political power base in the northwest, and Mr. Allan might be retained in advisory capacities as ministers without portfolio.

Cabinet Out of Town

Labor Misses Out On Injunction Bid

The B.C. Federation of Labor's bid to present a brief to the provincial cabinet has been stymied because most of the ministers are out of town.

The federation's secretary-treasurer Ray Haynes said in Vancouver Friday night that the federation had sought permission to appear before the cabinet and present a brief on what it regards as the misuse of injunctions in labor-management disputes.

He said he had hoped to have some answers from the cabinet on the subject to give to the delegates who will be at the federation's convention which starts Monday in Vancouver.

HEARD NOTHING

"We sent a letter to the government on Oct. 13, and never heard a thing from them. So we wired them last Wednesday and the answer received on the 26th was: "Majority of cabinet in Ottawa and elsewhere on government business."

The government telegram explained that it was impossible for the cabinet to entertain the brief at this time.

400 DELEGATES

Mr. Haynes said about 400 delegates are expected at the convention which will hear 135 resolutions and 10 committee reports.

"Many of the resolutions will deal with injunctions and other types of provincial labor legislation."

He said a special conference will be held Sunday when the national picture on injunctions will be discussed by the secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Labor Congress.

Scandal Rocks Lindsay Regime

Sanitation Department Cleans Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The first scandal of Mayor John V. Lindsay's 10-month-old administration broke Thursday with the firing of a $17,500-a-year sanitation department official.

The dismissal of Vincent Starace, first deputy sanitation commissioner, came shortly before the city's investigation commissioner charged that payoffs of up to $1,000 each were made by 30 men to get sanitation department promotions. A department foreman also was fired and another foreman resigned.

Social Study

VANCOUVER (CP)—City officials have proposed a new department at city hall to study Vancouver's social ills so they can be prevented in the future.

PRESENTS A

PUBLIC AUCTION OF PERSIAN RUGS

Sizes from 1'2"x2'4" to 27'5"x16'5"

INCLUDED IN THESE SUPERB AND VALUABLE RUGS ARE:

ISFAHANS with its medallion, vase, and flower design known as "Shah Abbas", although the famous Sixteenth Century carpets so called were probably made in Herat. TABRIZ is an ancient capital of Iran. It was here that the beautiful hunting carpets were woven. No other district has used such a wide range of colours or design. Silk is sometimes used in the finer specimens.

DJOSHEGHAN. The rugs of this district have the vase design, but they are simpler than those of Tabriz or Isfahan.

KASHANS. This is a very important weaving centre. Medallion and prayer designs predominate and are woven both in wool and silk.

KERMAN. The yarn of this weaving centre is soft. The designs are mostly medallion, and trees and flowers. The colors are beautifully blended and are particularly suitable for European furnishings.

FERAHAN is woven with the Selma knot and has enjoyed great popularity in Europe and America.

KHORASSAN. The stitch of these carpets are finer than those of Ferahan, but the wool is softer and not as durable as the latter.

HERAT. The most common design of these carpets is the recurring leaf and small rosettes. The ground shade is usually dark blue and the finer specimens generally have a soft green border. Knot: Ghiordes or Selma.

SARUK. The style here is very close to that of the Keshan carpets. The construction is strong with a very deep pile. Knot: Selma.

SEHNA. This is the district after which the famous Iranian knot gets its name. The carpets are finely woven in small Herat and cone designs. The pile is very short and the rugs are finely woven.

QUOMS, SILK VARAMINS. The famous four seasons of the year included in this exhibition.

You are cordially invited to view this exciting exhibition to appreciate the fine craftsmanship apparent in these Persian Rugs.

Under the direct instructions of the A.B.N.R. of Iran, we are instructed, immediately after the termination of this exhibition, to sell these beautiful pieces individually by

Rich Beauty Lady's Will Remembers Little Willie

NEW YORK — The will of Elizabeth Arden shows the Ontario-born international beauty expert, who parlayed a $600 cosmetics formula into a fortune of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000, didn't forget her employees.

The 24-page will of Miss Arden, who died Oct. 18 at 81, left $4,000,000 to her sister Gladys, Vicomtesse Henri de Maublanche of Paris, and other large items to other relatives.

But she also left $1,500,000 to employees with more than 10 years service in London, Paris, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Boston, Washington and Los Angeles. And another $8,500,000 went to 37 individuals, including $20,000 to "the hairdresser in my London salon known to me only as Little Willie." The hairdresser was identified as Doris Williams.

VANCOUVER — Actress Jayne Mansfield watched a session of magistrate's court and then chatted with Magistrate Darrell Jones to prove her interest in penology. She expressed the interest earlier during a nightclub stand and asked to visit Okalla, but prison officials said no. After the magistrate's session, she left about to find a $3 parking ticket on her luxury English car but police cancelled it as part of a general policy toward tourists.

LONDON — Police found the car they believe was used a week ago to spring master spy George Blake, 42, from Wormwood Scrubs prison. It was found parked with others on a street where tenants have no garages and had been there for several days.

PORT-AU-PRINCE — President Duvalier of Haiti, his cabinet and other high officials attended the installation of Magr. Francois Wolff Ligonde as Roman Catholic archbishop of Port-au-Prince. The ceremonies ended a feud between Duvalier and the church that began in 1962 when he expelled Archbishop Francois Poirier and other clergymen.

LONDON — Mrs. Sylvia Jean Currell, who gave birth to twins after taking what she thought were contraceptive pills, is suing a chemist who says sold her the wrong tablets. The chemist, H. G. A. Cripps, says he plans to fight both the question of liability and any damages.

NEW YORK — Militant "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael, 25, vowed he will not serve in the U.S. armed forces if two days of mental and physical tests show he can be drafted. He said he'd rather go to prison because "there is a higher law than the law of government. That's the law of conscience."

MADRID — A group of youthful a-m-e-d. anarchists plotted but failed to kidnap U.S. ambassador to Spain, Andrew Biddle Duke, reliable government sources said. The plot was discovered before it materialized and five members, including a woman, were jailed.

AMARILLO, Tex. — Sherree Ann Martin, 19, a go-go dancer, was sentenced to six months in jail for stealing a crucifix from a Roman Catholic hospital. She told the judge, "I took it because I needed some way to feel more religious."

U.S. Probes Food Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission has started an investigation of promotional games of chance in the U.S. retail food industry to determine if they raise prices and impair competition. The commission said Friday it is inquiring into the legality and competitive effects of the games.

The FTC called on retailers to discontinue voluntarily any promotional practices that are unfair or increase prices. "The commission also believes the public is entitled to know whether these schemes involve any deception or 'rigging,'" the commission said.

VANCOUVER — The more education Russians get, the more they like the west, said Dean Neville Scarfe of the University of B.C.'s education faculty. Dean Scarfe, who has just returned from a trip to the Soviet Union, said this is because Russian schools are placing more emphasis on teaching children to think.

TORONTO — Howard Joseph Rutsey, 60, a newspaper reporter for more than 25 years and one of the first radio news broadcasters in Canada, died in hospital after a heart seizure.

OTTAWA — Mrs. Rene Garneau, wife of the Canadian ambassador to Switzerland, died of a stroke in the Swiss capital of Berne. She was the former Jacqueline Morin, born in St. Joseph de Beauce, Que.

Richard Johnson, son of Mrs. Kathleen Johnson, 832 Reed Street, was presented with a City of Victoria physical education scholarship by Mayor Toome at a council meeting Thursday.

The $250 award was won while Richard was in high school. He was chosen by a committee of teachers and officials representing the city as an outstanding scholar, athlete and all-round student citizen, Mayor Toome said.

Richard, now attending the University of Victoria, told aldermen he hoped to become a physical education instructor and teach either in a YMCA or school.

Minutes Boy Buried Eternity for Family

FALHER, Alta. (CP)—How long is 20 minutes? To the Labrecque family it's an eternity.

About four weeks ago, just after his fourth birthday, Eugene Labrecque was believed dead after lying buried 20 minutes under 140 bushels of barley at the bottom of a hopper on the family farm 70 miles north-east of Grande Prairie.

Mrs. Labrecque told about the incident Thursday.

The family had been in the field all day harvesting the barley crop. There were Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Labrecque, their eldest son, Denis, Eugene, and Reynold Lessard, the hired hand.

Eugene was playing in the grain in the hopper. The barley flowed out the bottom into a machine that took it to a dryer.

"All of a sudden the grain wasn't flowing freely," Mrs. Labrecque said. "About the same time we missed Eugene."

"We were searching for him when I noticed something red lodged against the opening at the bottom of the hopper. It was Eugene's pant leg."

Denis and Reynold started digging with scoop shovels but the grain flowed into the hole as they dug.

"We had to do something else. So, O God, we, Alphonse, started a truck. It was filled with grain. He rammed the hopper trying to tip it over. It did not move."

Eugene

Finally Alphonse, Reynold and Denis were able to tip the hopper on its side.

"They took him out," Mrs. Labrecque said. "He wasn't breathing. We couldn't feel a heartbeat. I knew he was dead. His forehead was cold and his lips were blue. Eugene must have been down inside that hopper for 20 minutes. I'd given up hope."

But Denis hadn't. He clawed the barley from Eugene's open mouth and started applying resuscitation.

Finally Eugene showed signs of life. He started gasping, screaming and clawing at the air.

At hospital in Edmonton, doctors removed barley from Eugene's lungs and placed him in an oxygen tent.

Victoria Operation Scored

Parks in Saanich Short-Changed — Lum

By JOHN MATTERS

Saanich has been short-changed under a parks maintenance arrangement it has with the city of Victoria, Coun. Ed Lum charged Friday night.

Chairman of Saanich council's parks and recreation committee, he also criticized Herb Warren, administrator of the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee.

"I have felt strongly over the past two years that under the administration of Mr. Warren, Saanich has not received full value of its share of the costs and I have expressed this concern at various meetings," said Coun. Lum.

In a report to the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee earlier this week, Mr. Warren suggested more money was needed for life-guard services and maintenance.

Coun. Lum said Elk-Beaver

Lake and Mount Douglas parks are not the type of developments which the city's parks department is accustomed to handling. He suggested the city turn over maintenance of those areas to Saanich, with the same financial arrangements as exists—a cost-sharing basis.

"In my opinion, maintaining this type of park area is outside the normal type of work done by Victoria parks department, which is limited to more formal work such as maintaining floral displays, boulevards and playgrounds."

Mr. Lum said Saanich's parks department has been geared for the development of park areas from wild land.

Time For Change

Don't look now but it's that time again.

Summer is over, the fall weather is getting chillier and chiller, in fact it's overcast weather on beautiful Vancouver Island.

Now comes the last straw. In the spring we look forward to putting the clock ahead an hour to give us more time to play golf and get out in the garden.

Now it is fall and the time has come to lose an hour—the hour of daylight.

So put the clock BACK one hour early Sunday morning. Seems an awful thing to have to do but we can always look forward to Christmas and New Year and next spring.

Savings Foreseen

"I feel, because of this factor, that if Elk-Beaver Lake and Mount Douglas Park were administered by Saanich, considerable savings could be realized."

"Indicative of this are the parks and recreation areas fully developed and maintained by Saanich on a budget approximately one-fifth the size of the city's parks budget," said Coun. Lum.

Mr. Warren's report said a total of $145,550 was needed for essential work in a five-year program.

Mr. Lum pointed out that in a proposal made to the city Jan. 6 this year Saanich offered $280,000 over a five-year period.

"The $145,000 would be on a 50-per-cent-share basis while the $280,000 would be borne by Saanich at no cost to the city. Therefore, I cannot see the wisdom of Victoria city council turning down Saanich's proposal."

Coun. Lum said Saanich told Victoria that if the Elk-Beaver Lake area was dedicated as a public park the municipality would spend $380,000 over 10 years on its maintenance and development.

During that period, Victoria wouldn't be required to make any further expenditures. Another clause of the offer suggested plans for the area's development would be approved by a joint committee of Saanich and Victoria representatives.

For Saanich Firemen

Promotion Scheme Proposed

Coun. Alan Newberry of Saanich said Friday proposals hatched by a council committee are designed to prevent another fiasco over the fire department.

Coun. Newberry, chairman of the municipality's fire committee, has suggested a promotion scheme to enable firemen to progress through the ranks in the department.

It has been adopted by Saanich council as a recommendation to next year's administration.

TRAINING OFFICER

The committee also has suggested a training officer be appointed from within the department to design a program through which the men could escalate.

"We have capable young men in the department who should have an opportunity to advance themselves," said Coun. Newberry.

HASSLE OVER CHIEF

He explained that the suggestions were made so there wouldn't be a repetition of the hassle of two years ago over the appointment of a chief.

One faction was opposed to bringing in Joe Sutherland from the Victoria fire department. They said the appointment should have been filled by someone already on staff.

RETIREMENT

Coun. Newberry said Chief Sutherland probably will retire in five or six years and someone from Saanich's staff should be sufficiently trained to replace him.

The councillor, who is seeking re-election this year, also said he'll suggest that next year's budget provide for an increase in the department's staff.

UNDERSTAFFED

"In view of the growing municipality, a round figure might be 10 to 20 extra men next year," he said.

Fire Chief Sutherland and an official of the provincial fire marshal's office have warned the municipality that its fire department is understaffed.

Root Paper Given $100 Prize

Gordon Root, publisher of the Highway News-Review in Colwood, received a $100 award Friday at the B.C. Weekly Newspapers Association convention in Vancouver.

It was one of four MacMillan Bloedel awards for weekly journalistic accomplishments. Other winners were Louise Spratley of West Vancouver, $500; Harvie Gay of Vernon, $250; and Ruth Hallock of Terrace, $100.

Johnson Street Bridge Will Open Next Week

The bottleneck caused by the closing of Johnson Street bridge for the past two weeks will be broken by the middle of next week, officials of the city engineer's department said Friday.

Closing of the bridge for redecking has necessitated re-routing of traffic which normally flows along Johnson Street and Esquimalt Road, over Bay Street and at rush hours there has been congestion.

City officials said they hoped everything would be back to normal and normal traffic patterns re-established by the week's end.

Tight Money Hurts Housing

Coun. Edith Gunning of Saanich said Friday night she'll have something to report next week on a proposal to buy houses for the municipality's low-income families.

However, the chairman of council's health and welfare committee did not speak in hopeful tones. She indicated that the tight money situation has had a deleterious effect on the project.

A study made by Saanich earlier this year showed there was a need for approximately 50 such homes.

TWO FACTORS

Reeve Hugh Curtis and council felt there were two factors of concern: the sub-standard housing available for those who can't pay more and landlords who won't make repairs.

Council originally investigated the possibility of building an apartment complex for the low-income group but dropped the idea because it was felt it could become a ghetto.

The capital costs of such housing would be paid 75 per cent by federal agencies and the provincial government the remainder.

Powder Pool Slight Goof

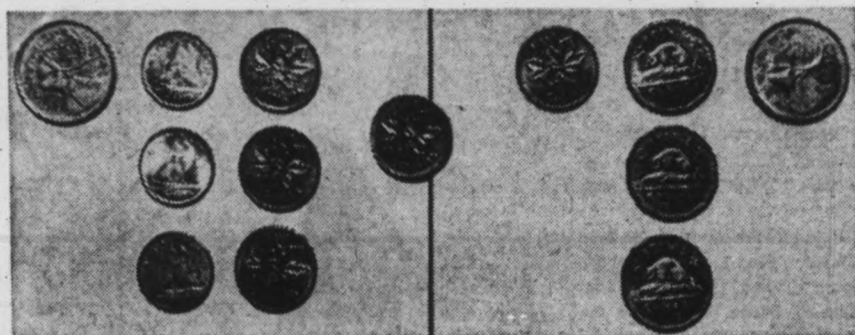

Haloween came early for two 10-year-old Saanich boys when their attempt to make gunpowder Friday night in the rear seat of an older model car backfired.

The interior of the car went up in flames.

Saanich police said neither boy was hurt, and identified the car owner as Lloyd Keith of 3634 Tillicum.

Car Wash Today

A car wash will be held at the Shop Easy store in the Colwood Plaza from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. today, by the 3rd Juan de Fuca scout troop. The price is 99 cents.

Appeal Moves Closer to Goal

The United Appeal moved $12,422 closer to the target mark Friday with 58.7 cents collected out of every dollar needed, leaving a total of 41.3 per cent still to be collected out of every dollar in the $452,000 target. Residential collection hit the $20,000 figure moving toward goal of $70,000.

Thief Chats, Goes

A cool thief took $200 from a Victoria home shortly after noon Friday, exchanged pleasures with the owners, and walked off the premises.

Victor Grange, 519 William, and his wife, had been working in their back yard. About 12:15 p.m. Mrs. Grange returned to the house and entered the basement. She saw a young man coming down the basement stairs.

She described the man as being about 18 years old, five feet, 10 inches tall, neat-looking with short dark hair.

Victoria police said the young man had asked directions to the city centre and after getting them, left the house.

River Trip Set for Today

The intermediate section of junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet at 1:30 p.m. today at Douglas and Hillside for a field trip to Goldstream River.

Police said the couple did not get suspicious until about 10 minutes after he departed. Mrs. Grange checked her purse, which had been in the front bedroom closet, and discovered the money was missing.

According to police the thief entered the house through the front basement door which had been left open.

Leadership Class Starts in Schools

A youth leadership course has been undertaken in Victoria high schools as a civic project by the Victoria club of Toastmasters International, co-ordinator Ald. Robert Baird said Friday.

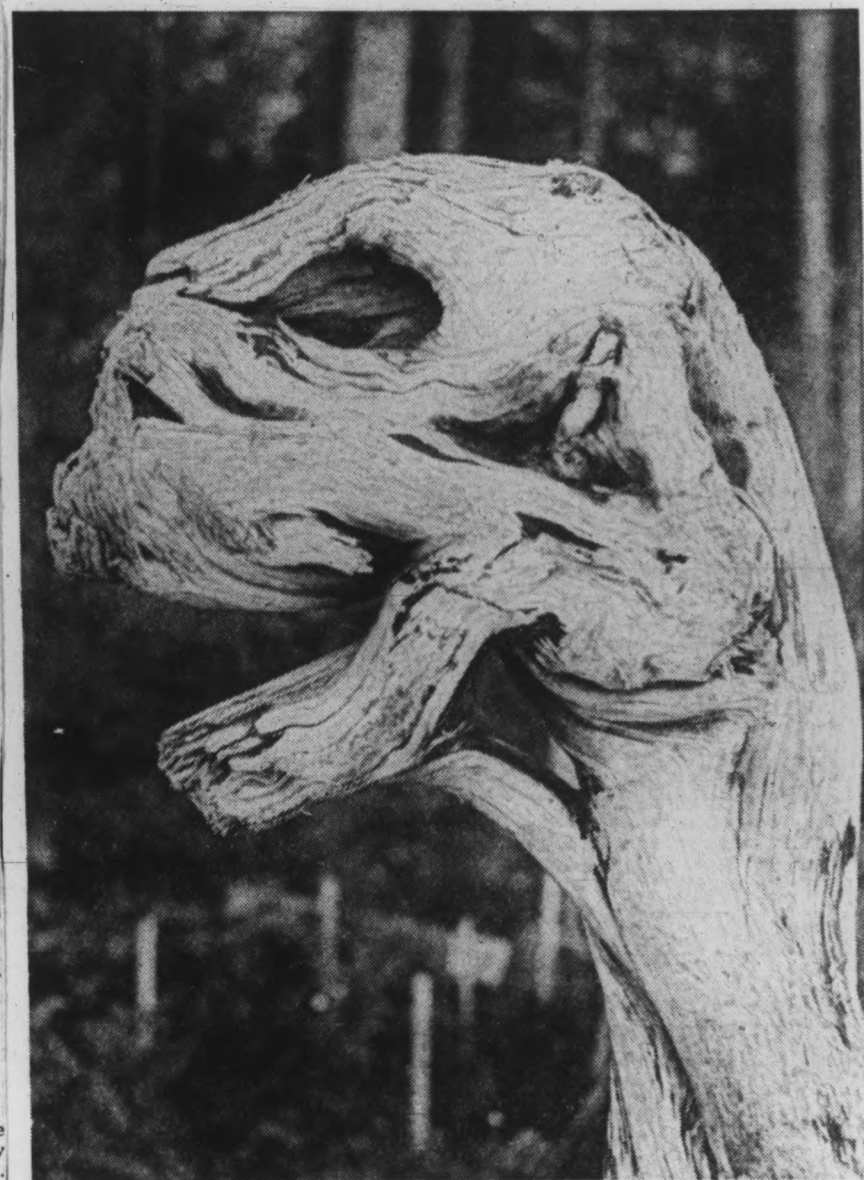

Thirty students were introduced to the program at the first enthusiastic meeting held in Victoria High School Wednesday evening.

A feature of the course is a series of special lectures by educational advisers supplied by the sponsoring club. Included will be such subjects as speech fundamentals, group discussion, listening and evaluation, voice and vocabulary and self-confidence.

Ald. Baird said that progress

Teachers, Trustees Arrange New Parley

Greater Victoria teachers said Friday night a stern exchange they've had with the school board has brought the two sides together for refreshed salary talks.

The teachers said a telegram they sent to the board, and the board's reply, have "brought the two sides together, more determined than ever to continue negotiations."

Wednesday's telegram, made public Friday, claimed the presence of Wilf Peck, the school board's negotiator, was a bottleneck.

SOLUTION 'HINDERED'

"It is our opinion that he has not assisted the negotiation process and his lack of understanding of the co-operative venture we are undertaking in other matters hinders effective solution of our problems by mutual agreement," it said.

The teachers wanted Mr. Peck shunted aside and asked for a face-to-face meeting with the board's finance committee.

John Porteous, chairman of the board, replied in a letter that the teachers' reference to co-operation was noted "but co-operation should always stem from both sides."

'MORE THAN WILLING'

Mr. Porteous said Mr. Peck and W. G. Curran, finance committee chairman, "are more than willing to co-operate with your agreements committee should it make a reasonable presentation of a basic salary commensurate with existing economic conditions in conjunction with the level of the existing basic salary scale."

Ray Wunderlich, president of the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association, said Friday night that a face-to-face meeting with trustees will be held Wednesday.

"It is a hopeful sign," he added, explaining that the clash had been "over-stated" earlier.

'NEVER SAID THAT'

He and Gerald Guest, who heads their contract negotiating team, denied that teachers have said the board isn't acting in good faith.

"We've never said that," said Mr. Guest. "In fact, we realize it has so little meaning we avoid the expression."

Thieves Take Cash, Cheques

Thieves broke into the Cartier Ltd., 1210 Wharf, early Thursday and took $115.81 in cash and $63.75 in cheques from a cash box which had been locked in a safe. Victoria city police said entry was made by breaking the glass front door.

Mr. Wunderlich said the teachers' original intention was to meet with trustees on a co-operative committee. He said that while bargaining has been going on, teachers and trustees have been working together in several areas.

Price Protests

Blizzard Sent By Gas Users

A blizzard of protests from Victoria's commercial gas users is on its way to B.C. Hydro and the provincial government.

Bill Webb, president of the Vancouver Island branch, Canadian Restaurant Association, said Friday night 500 letters will descend on the government and its agency.

The letters are being signed by businesses and industries which claim their gas rates are 2½ times greater than those paid in Vancouver.

In addition to the letters, there'll be petitions from such organizations as the bakers, hotelmen, fish fryers, hotel keepers and the Chamber of Commerce.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers—I was touched by the letter from the teen-agers who bought an orchid for their mother only to be told, "What a foolish thing to do. Where in the world am I going to wear an orchid? To the supermarket?"

I had the same kind of a mother and it nearly wrecked my life. When I was six I found a dime on the street. I went to the candy store and looked at all the goodies for about 20 minutes. Then I decided I would rather buy some buttons for my mother because the ones on her dress didn't match.

When I gave Mom the buttons, she screamed at me. The buttons were the wrong size and the wrong color and I was a dumb kid. That was the story of my childhood—rejection, belittling, getting yelled at.

I was determined that my children would never suffer as I did. Last week when my five-year-old presented me with a dried up pansy, I pinned it on my dress and wore it to the market. Alice was so pleased she beamed all day.

I'm clipping that orchid letter as a reminder. Ann, thank you so much for printing it. A LOVED MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Thank you for reminding us all, once again, how important it is for parents to be aware of a child's need for praise and approval. With love and acceptance children blossom. Without it they wither and die.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have always had a better than average marriage. Our children are grown and we have grandchildren.

A relative lost her husband several months ago and Earl and I decided to ask her to live with us. We have plenty of room here and we have always enjoyed this person as a guest.

Well, ever since she moved in, I have felt like an outsider in my own home. It is nothing SHE does, it's Earl. He addresses all his remarks to her and the two of them talk right past me, as if I were a wall decoration.

At supper tonight he said, "There is one piece of meat left. Helen, you and I will split it." Whenever Earl and I go any place we invite Helen. She never refuses so now we are like triplets. Please tell me what to do. This arrangement is keeping me up nights. —TOO BIG HEARTED

Dear Big Heart: Discuss the lady who came to dinner, with your clergyman and ask HIM to talk to Earl. When he hears from an authority that his marriage is in jeopardy because of this gleesome threesome he will agree that Helen must find another place to live, I hope.

Confidential to ONE WHO HAS MADE THE SCENE BUT MISSED THE SIGNIFICANCE: I agree with you in part, but the essence of democracy is expressed NOT in, "I am as good as you"—but rather in, "You are as good as I." It is not enough these days to remember that you are your brother's keeper. You must remember that you are your brother's brother.

"Unique in its sphere" commented Mr. Alan Batey when questioned about the general reaction to the Institute of Adult Studies which has recently become a function of the Greater Victoria School Board System.

Mr. Batey, principal of the Institute, and Mr. J. H. Dalgleish, Director of Adult Education, were speakers at a panel discussion on the Challenge of Change in Education sponsored by Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Victoria, Sidney and Oak Bay.

Young students right out of high school perhaps lacking one or two Grade 12 subjects, others taking Grade 13, together with men and women re-entering the employment field wishing to upgrade their education make up the student body. 'Same Booby Trap'

Tories, NDP Raise Row Over Pipeline Agreement

OTTAWA (CP)—The threat of another hectic pipeline debate erupted in the Commons Friday, but subsided slightly when Social Credit and Creditiste MPs rallied to the government's aid in the face of bitter Conservative and New Democrat attacks.

The uproar started when Energy Minister Pepin tabled the government agreement with Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. allowing construction of a 36-inch pipeline to two Ontario points through the United States.

"Surely a party that went through the humiliating debacle of the pipeline debate in 1956 is not going to fall into the same booby trap again?" NDP Leader Douglas said in reference to the debate on Trans-Canada's original line which became a major issue in an election that toppled the Liberals from power in 1957.

NEEDS HOUSE APPROVAL

Mr. Douglas said the government has no power to authorize the agreement without first submitting it to Parliament. Opposition Leader Diefenbaker insisted the agreement be studied by a parliamentary committee to ensure it would not hamper future development in Canada.

BREACH CLAUSE

"There is also a clause stating that Trans-Canada will be liable to the amount of at least $1,000,000 for each breach of the agreement," he added after tabling the contract.

When the pipeline furor subsided, the House continued debate on the labor department estimates, with NDP and independent MPs questioning Labor Minister Nicholson.

DEFEATS MOTION

Late in the debate the House voted 45 to 3 against an amendment by Gilles Giguere (Ind.-Lapointe) that proposed chopping to $1 the $594,000 budget of the Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act.

Mr. Giguere was unhappy with the makeup of the nine-member board and its recent decision not to certify a Quebec-based cameramen's union. Maurice Allard (Ind.-Sherbrooke) and Henri Latulippe (Creditiste—Compton—Frontenac) supported Mr. Giguere in the standing vote.

QUESTIONS LATER

In the pipeline hassle, Mr. Pepin countered opposition demands for debate by saying his department's spending estimates still have to come before the Commons and questions could be asked then.

Officials of the National Energy Board, which approved the company's pipeline application, also would be available for questioning.

CANADA FIRST

Social Credit Leader Thompson said the real issue should be whether Canada has enough natural gas reserves for export as well as home consumption. But the agreement made adequate provision to ensure Canadian needs were met first.

Mr. Thompson said the company's original application had been approved by the energy board, but rejected by the government. This second application, also approved by the board, met essential requirements and was "on a sound basis."

U.S. Mine Dumps Will Be Checked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Bureau of Mines has ordered a spot check of mining waste dumps in the U.S. following the disastrous slide which struck Aberfan, Wales, it was announced Friday.

Allan Sherman, bureau information officer, said the survey was ordered because of the Aberfan tragedy in which at least 145 persons, most of them children, lost their lives.

Preliminary reports from the bureau's field personnel are expected Monday.

Mr. Sherman said the bureau made a survey in 1964 of mining dumps, but there were no reports of potentially dangerous locations where slides could occur.

"In light of Aberfan, we've asked our people to take another look, particularly if there have been heavy rains," he said.

The information officer said he knew of no U.S. dumps the size of the 800-foot black mound which swept down on the Welsh community. But, he said, there had been instances of waste pile slides causing damage in Pennsylvania.

OTHER AREAS

The anthracite or hard coal fields of eastern Pennsylvania, extending from Scranton to Shamokin, are to be surveyed because of the many waste piles resulting from more than 100 years of mining.

"We are also looking at other areas," Sherman said.

Three geologists from the U.S. geological survey said Thursday mining areas where slides were possible were located in Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, West Virginia, eastern Kentucky, southwestern Virginia, portions of eastern Tennessee and the northwest corner of Georgia.

They also said "possible catastrophic danger areas" were in the Rocky Mountain regions of Utah, Wyoming and Colorado if mining waste was piled on steep slopes. Mining officials in Colorado said Friday they did not believe there was any slide danger in the region.

The introit of the mass is based on Psalm 150: "Praise ye the Lord. Praise God in his sanctuary: praise him in the firmament of his power... Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high sounding cymbals. Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord."

Soloists will be Roberta Crosby, alto, and David Conrad, bass.

Instrumentalists are Diana Brown, clarinet; Roberta Crosby, guitar and recorder; Donna Dougan, guitar; Susan Fawcett, autoharp; Sue Laubenstein, flute; Eileen McCammon, guitar; Ruth Phillips, trumpet and bongos; Judy Roberts, maracas.

At the morning service in the church, Rev. H. W. Kerley will speak on Reflections On Life. The anthem is Jackson's Te Deum Laudamus. Clifford Horwood will be soloist.

Adventists Treat Not Trick

Halloween means more than witches and broomsticks to members of the Pathfinder Club of the Victoria Seventh-day Adventist Church. There are no tricks in their plan, just treats for the needy.

The youngsters will be out Monday evening collecting canned goods for hampers to be distributed at Christmas.

SHOPPING BASKETS

The young collectors range in age from six to 14 and will carry with them shopping baskets to carry the gifts of canned goods. Adults from the church will accompany the young people, following closely in cars to render assistance in carrying the heavy goods.

"We encourage them in good neighbor activities," a church spokesman said Friday.

HAVE SATISFACTION

"We hope they will make Halloween more enjoyable for householders. They will at least have the satisfaction of giving Christmas cheer and comfort to those who need it most."

The hampers will be distributed from the church's Health and Welfare Centre at 1117 Blanshard.

Junior Choir Needs Staff

The junior choir of First United Church is looking for new members. Children up to and including 12 years of age are invited to attend at 4 p.m. Thursdays in Room 119 of the church.

Grass Roots Ecumenism

St. John's Anglican and First United

Ecumenism at the grass roots level is being practised by St. John's Anglican and First United Churches, situated a few doors from each other on Quadra Street.

The two churches will hold a series of seminars starting next week. Tuesday night meetings will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. in Room 223 of First Church from Nov. 1 to 29.

Committee and group leadership will be discussed under the direction of Margaret Tredwell, director of Christian education at St. John's, and Rob Nelson, director of Christian education at First Church. Resource book is Philip Anderson's Church Meetings That Matter.

Wednesday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m., from Nov. 2 to 30, Rev. Marvin Fowler of First United and Canon Graham Baker of St. John's will conduct a continuing seminar on worship, faith and liturgy.

Resource books on the comparison of United Church and Anglican traditions are the

Fowler

Anglican Prayer Book and The Book of Common Order of the United Church. Meetings will take place in the women's lounge of St. John's. The seminars, while primarily an ecumenical exercise to increase understanding and relationships between the two congregations, are also designed for the understanding of worship and what it is, Mr. Fowler said Friday.

The two churches had a joint service last year and are planning another this year. Stewards of both churches had a social evening last week.

"We are planning on doing more and more things together," Mr. Fowler said.

"It is very important to grow together at the grass roots level," Canon Baker said.

"Any point of contact is worthwhile searching out. If we are to be together eventually, we have to come to an understanding of our approach to worship, why one does it one way and the other another way."

"Most laymen in both churches don't know how the methods of worship have grown up over the years. We therefore must examine the roots and the reasons why and decide if they are good enough."

Centennial Carousel Scheduled

United Church Women of First Church will hold a Centennial Carousel in the fellowship hall, 832 Balmoral, starting with lunch at 11 a.m. Nov. 5.

There will be an art exhibit by Victoria artist Edward Goodall, who will judge the Junior Art Contest.

There will be a sale of homemade candy, mince meat and baked goods as well as jewelry, aprons and novelties.

Afternoon tea will be served.

Episcopalians Enlist Great Church Minds

WHEELING, V. Va. (AP)—described the action as a "revolutionary step."

The bishops said: "... These times call for a major re-examination by our Church not only of its theological stance but also of its structure, worship and total life."

A church spokesman likened the council to "a sort of ecumenical council for the Episcopal Church" made up of lay and clerical members. He

The resolution commended "our leaders for their efforts to bring an end to this conflict through negotiation."

The bishops struck from the resolution a plea to "stop... the escalation of the war" and to stop "bombing and military action which result in killing of non-combatants."

Afternoon tea will be served.

Johovah's Witnesses

Circuit Supervisor To Teach on Island

New supervisor of the South Vancouver Island circuit of Jehovah's Witnesses is Theodore Petras.

Each of the nine congregations in the Greater Victoria area will receive a week's instruction from Mr. Petras. It will consist of an advanced training program, starting each Tuesday evening with a ministry training school followed by a service meeting in which Mr. Petras will give counsel.

QUESTION PERIOD

Mr. Petras and his wife, Rosemarie, will join ministers from the local congregations in making calls on residents in the community. This is part of the regular door-to-door ministry training program of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The Saturday evening program begins with a question period on New Things Learned. Highlight of the week comes Sunday when Mr. Petras delivers his public talk on Christendom or Christianity — Which One Has Failed?

This week M. Petras is serving the Fairfield congregation in their new Kingdom Hall on Joan Crescent.

In 1962 he was appointed circuit supervisor in Edmonton and two years later was moved to Calgary. He attended the Kingdom Ministry School in Toronto and has just finished a refresher course there.

Honors for Five Naval Cadets

Special Service Sunday in St. Paul's

Victoria was shocked Nov. 1, 1914, to hear the sad news of the defeat of a British squadron off Coronel, Chile.

In that action the Royal Canadian Navy suffered its first casualties. Four members of the first term of the naval college at Halifax went down with HMS Good Hope, Admiral Craddock's flagship.

After the Falkland Islands action, one unit of the fleet, HMS Kent, came to Esquimalt for repairs early in 1915 and stayed for a lengthy visit.

In this centennial year of St. Paul's Anglican Church, a special invitation has been extended to former cadets from the Royal Canadian Naval College to attend a commemorative service at 11 a.m. Sunday in the memory of their fellow naval officer cadets.

Among the former cadets to attend is Capt. John Grant, RCN (ret.), who will lay a wreath near the commemorative wall plaque which reads:

"To the Glory of God and in fond memory of the following ex-cadets of the Royal Naval College of Canada, Midshipmen W. A. Palmer, J. V. Hatheway, A. W. Silver, M. Canny killed in action on board HMS Good Hope off Coronel, Nov. 1, 1914. Lieut. W. M. Matland-Dougall killed on active service in command of H.M. Submarine D3 in the English Channel March 15, 1918."

Other centennial events at St. Paul's Church include a special service Sunday, Nov. 13, for representatives of the Royal Canadian Legion; a church dinner, Tuesday, Nov. 15, and a celebration of the 100th anniversary of the consecration of the church Sunday, Dec. 11. Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pearkes, who were married in the church, will attend.

Catholics Debate Birth Control

'An Inadequate Law Today'

By MSGR. M. T. O'CONNELL

The Catholic bishops of Canada recently stated the existing section of the Criminal Code concerning contraceptives is a deficient law.

The bishops made it clear their comments did not in any way imply the approval of contraceptives. These comments were given by the bishops in response to a request from the House of Commons committee on health and welfare.

The Commons committee is studying proposed changes in Article 159 of the Criminal Code which forbids the sale or distribution of contraceptives as well as the giving of information about contraception.

The Bishops explained a moral offence need not be considered a legal or criminal offence, unless the act in question is notably contrary to the common good.

A law must also be capable of enforcement for law suffers when certain laws cannot be enforced. A law should not injure one group in society, nor should a law give rise to greater evils than those it was designed to suppress.

The bishops then concluded: "In the light of these conditions we consider Article 159, which forbids giving information about contraception as well as the sale or distribution of contraceptives, an inadequate law today. We consider it so quite independently of the morality or immorality of various methods of birth prevention."

SALE FORBIDDEN

INHERENT DANGERS

The Bishops supported those who have already appealed for safeguards to the proposed laws which would protect juveniles and the public in general from the dangers inherent in uncontrolled advertising and uninhibited display or sale of contraceptives. They expressed concern for the individual in the event that governments might sponsor programs for the regulation of births:

"The field of financial help to the needy and of information on regulation of births should be so separated that acceptance of contraceptive devices or information is never in reality made a condition or necessary concomitant of welfare assistance."

DO NOT OPPOSE

As a result, the bishops do not oppose changes in this Article of the Criminal Code provided the safeguards concerning advertising are built into the law and the protection of freedom is ensured.

An appeal was made for more research into the possible effects that changes in the law might have on individuals, families and the common good of Canadian society as a whole.

Lutherans Start Renewal With Manifesto

A 16-point manifesto will be read in Grace English Lutheran Church, 1273 Fort, this Sunday.

"It will begin a period of self-examination and renewal at the church as well as in 6,217 other congregations of the Lutheran Church in America," the pastor, Rev. David Metzger, said Friday.

The manifesto consists of a check list of characteristics that a congregation alert to modern times must consider, the pastor said.

The document will be read from the pulpit on Reformation Sunday and then studied and discussed with the help of material being prepared by the LCA Executive Council, he said.

LOST TOUCH?

The manifesto and accompanying two-year study was approved by the LCA at its church-wide convention last June.

At the 1964 convention, the church became concerned that some of its congregations might have lost touch with modern changes in private and community life and ordered a study of the nature and mission of the church.

MAKE SURE

Finally, it calls for regular examination of the congregation's organizational life "to make sure that every part of it is an authentic expression of the gospel and contributes to the fulfilling of its mission."

LCA president Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry said the manifesto is part of a "church-wide look at itself."

"I hail it with joy and gratitude. It has the potential for immeasurable good."

SPECIAL GROUPS

Study materials are being prepared to help congregations strengthen themselves in terms of the mandate.

Churches will be encouraged to fit themselves into needs of special groups, even "if outside the normal pattern of congregational life."

congregation. The manifesto is the result.

Among other points, the manifesto urges congregations to greater co-operation with other Lutheran and non-Lutheran bodies, urges recognition of the "dramatic increase in the proportion of youth in the population," and asks the congregation to increase efforts to "promote justice, relieve misery and reconcile the estranged."

It also demands a thorough examination of the congregation's inner, spiritual life, urging members to be "the family of God in which those who suffer the bruises of life can find support and help, the complement are stirred and the creative and venturesome are encouraged."

REZONING

UCLUELET — The village commissioners at a recent meeting turned down an application to have the former seaplane base rezoned from residential to industrial.

The vote was 3-1 against the application.

Millstream Timber Co. was applying to establish a log chipper plant at the base, while B.C. Forest Products wanted to get permission for a booming ground.

CLASSES OPEN

A series of adult-level inquiry classes will be held at St. Andrew's Cathedral, starting Thursday. Purpose of the courses is to acquaint interested persons with the Roman Catholic Church. The approach is biblical and shows how God's workings are relevant to today.

The course will run from November until June.

First talk will be given by Father Philip Hanley, diocesan director of religious education for Vancouver Island. Subsequent talks will be given by other priests in the Victoria area.

Shot 'Fired Into Ground' Costs Householder $100

An Esquimalt man who fired into the ground to scare off what he thought was a prowler was fined $100 in central magistrate's court Friday on a charge of criminal negligence.

Luke Wedge, 637 Nelson, pleaded guilty.

Amos Pingo, an Eskimo attending a course at CFB Esquimalt, was shot in his right thigh.

TRIAL COMING

He has been charged with loitering by night and was remanded to Nov. 14 for trial.

Wedge told Esquimalt police his wife was awakened at about 12:45 a.m. Sept. 8 by a noise outside their home.

A man was walking up and down the side of the house and attempted to get in the bathroom window, Wedge said.

BEHIND CAR

Wedge got a .22 calibre rifle from a dresser drawer and opened the front door of his house. He saw a man crouched behind his car in the driveway.

He called to the man who jumped up and ran to the street.

He fired, from the hip, into the ground. Corporal Kenneth Hatherley said Wedge told him.

He did not know he had hit the man who did not call out.

TROUBLE BEFORE

Wedge's wife was nervous and they had had trouble previously with prowlers, court was told.

His counsel, Lloyd McKenzie, suggested a fine would be appropriate.

"In this day and age it is certainly not universally realized that a householder, in defence of his home, cannot take the steps this man took," Mr. McKenzie said.

"I think he acted in an unwise fashion."

'VOLUNTARY GIFT'

Wedge will make a "voluntary gift of the sum to the Crown," Mr. McKenzie said.

Magistrate William Oxtley agreed, adding: "It is very difficult in these circumstances to fault this man too greatly."

Prize Film On Atom Monday

A University of Victoria physicist and an award-winning film are featured in the second presentation of the Can Man Survive? series Monday night.

The theme of the program is atomic energy.

Speaking at 8 p.m. at the YM-YWCA, 880 Courtney, will be Dr. Michael Pearce, assistant professor of physics.

FUTURE USES

He will discuss uses of atomic energy in the future.

The film is called International Atom, selected at a United States film festival as the best in the popular science category.

The series is sponsored by the YM-YWCA, Victoria branch of the United Nations Association and the National Film Board.

Experimental Report Card In Homes Soon

Code-letter grading has been eliminated from a new pink report card which will come home with primary-grade school children early next month.

The experimental card will contain teachers' comments only, and can be kept by parents.

The department of education has authorized the card for a trial period of one year, said Harold O'Donnell, director of elementary instruction for the Greater Victoria school district.

GRADUAL CHANGE

It is tied to the new "levels system" of continuous learning in the primary grades, a system which is gradually replacing traditional grades.

Basic subjects such as arithmetic and language arts (reading, writing, spelling, composition, listening and speaking) are taught in a series of levels. Each child proceeds at his own speed.

"It's unfair to rate children of different ability on the same scale if they are doing their best," said Mr. O'Donnell.

O'Donnell

The new card leaves more room for teachers' comments. It is hoped the comments will be more expansive," said Mr. O'Donnell.

Peking Lecturer Here Nov. 5

An insider's view of Red China will be presented in Victoria Nov. 5 by David Crook, a lecturer for the past 19 years at the Peking Institute of Foreign Languages.

Mr. Crook, who defended China's young Red Guard during his Toronto appearance, will speak at 8 p.m. in St. John Ambulance Hall, 941 Pandora, sponsored by the Voice of Women.

OTTAWA (CP) — All Canadians who apply for 1967 commercial salmon-fishing licences in British Columbia before May 31 will get them, the fisheries department announced Friday.

"Unforeseen difficulties" had made it impractical to adopt an earlier department proposal that 1967 licences be restricted to vessels which held them this year or vessels replacing one which fished this year.

There would be additional discussions on this proposal with the fishermen and the industry, the department added.

Garden Notes

By M. V. CHESNUT

A lily-of-the-valley bed, if well made and generously treated, will thrive and flower for many years without any particular care or attention. There comes a time eventually, however, when the plants are obviously overcrowded, the new growth is weak, and the flowers few. This is the signal to take up the plants, divide, and replant them, preferably although not necessarily in a new location.

Position plays a most important part in the successful cultivation of lily-of-the-valley. It loves a cool, moist spot in partial shade, and a rather woody kind of soil rich in humus—especially the humus from rotted leaves.

A good location is under trees when the branches are not too low and overhanging, where it will receive some shade spotted with little dapples of sunlight filtering through the tree foliage. Another good spot is along the north side of a wall or fence, with open sky above and perhaps a bit of sun in early morning and late afternoon.

If you can't give your plants the dappled woodland shade they love, they will still grow and flourish in full sun, providing you can compensate them with lots of water, an occasional feed of liquid manure or soluble fertilizer, and an annual mulch of rotted manure or leafmould.

The ground to receive the plants should be dug over to the full depth of the spade, incorporating half a bucketful of old rotted manure and the same amount of rotted leaves per square yard. If you can't manage these materials, a satisfactory substitute would be a bucketful of peat moss and a cupful of bone meal per square yard.

With these humus-forming materials thoroughly incorporated in the soil, next job is to rake it level and walk all over the bed until it is moderately firm. These plants never do well in a loose, fluffy soil.

When you come to take up your old plants, you'll find the roots hopelessly matted together. It is best to start at one end of the bed, lifting with a garden fork, and clearing the bed completely as you go. Test each clump apart with the fingers, selecting pieces for replanting each with three or four strong crowns. These are easily recognized, as they are fat, oval little buds emerging from a root-like stem. You'll have far more plants than you can possibly use in the new bed, so retain only pieces with fat, strong buds, discarding the small weedy ones.

In planting, it is a good idea to fluff out the mass of fine roots with your fingers, so they will occupy more feeding area, rather than cramping them into a narrow, deep hole. Set them in with their roots well down and well spread out, but with the growth buds just barely covered. Correct spacing is four inches apart each way. Give a little water as you plant to bring the soil into close and intimate contact with the roots.

When planting is finished, give the bed a top dressing of about an inch of peat moss, or better still, rotted and sifted leafmould. This mulch is to conserve moisture and to simulate the woodland conditions under which the lily-of-the-valley grows in nature. For healthy plants and lots of the dainty, sweetly fragrant flowers, the surface mulch should be topped up again in the spring, and every spring thereafter until the bed is again remade.

ERMA BOMBECK and Halloween Capers

Treat Me — or Else!

Do you get the feeling that Halloween is being taken over by the Mafia?

A tradition that used to bring sweet little bunnies and do-it-yourself ghosts into your living room is now being taken over by a group of oldsters who want 10-cent candy bars and no nonsense.

Had I not run upon a group in an alleyway the other night planning their "Hallowe'en Heist," I would never have known this to be fact. As it happened, a tall kid by the name of Louie was talking to his boys.

"Okay, Tony, on the Hallowe'en caper this year, you'll drive the car. (Tony, chewing on a toothpick, nodded.) Now, here's the plan," he continued. "We hit the apartment houses first. They're closer together and there's a lot of loot in apartments. Most of them are newbies and they make the scene with the quality-type chocolates.

"Next we go to the housing projects and last we sell a little protection to the merchants."

"I think we ought to wear some kind of a costume this year," said a boy cleaning his nails with a pair of barber's scissors. "Last year, a little old lady wanted to know what I was supposed to be."

"Tell her you're supposed to be a 17-year-old hood!" snapped Louie. "Now, who's got change of the loot bags? You, Bugs? Great. Check 'em over to see there are no holes or weak spots. When we start tossing in we'll double back to the suburbs and tap the bags of the little folks whose treat bags should be draggin' by this time. Is there anyone here who can't stand to hear a kid cry?"

"Okay, now for the review of treats to be tricked. What do we do to people who give us a nickel?" Group in unison: "We release the emergency brake on their car and let it roll out into the street."

"And what about those little napskins of popcorn and candy corn?" Group: "We rip out the shrubbery with our bare hands."

"No! You stupid jerks! We soap their windows with candle wax! Can't you get that through your skulls?"

"You know," Bugs broke in. "My mom said once on Trick or Treat a little old woman gave her a raw potato and with a little salt on it... it wasn't bad!"

"Will you shut up," snarled Louie. "We want only commercial candy bars that we can sell later. Now, after we've fixed up the shopping centres real good, we'll double back to the suburbs and tap the bags of the little folks whose treat bags should be draggin' by this time. Is there anyone here who can't stand to hear a kid cry?"

"Gee, Louie," said a small guy named Marty. "I don't mind roughin' up the little old ladies when they hand you a homemade cookie, or puttin' rocks in gas tanks when they give you a popcorn ball, but bakin' from the kids rubs me the wrong way. It really is their territory, you know."

There was a silence in the group. I had to stop breathing to hear.

"The trouble with you, Marty," said Louie, "is you've gone and grown up! There's no room in our organization for a mature, decent adult. OUT!"

I felt like buying Marty a 10-cent candy bar.

Her Kisses Reserved

LONDON (NANA)—The two biggest romantic screen figures in the world, you might say—Elizabeth Taylor and Martin Bando—do not exchange even the tinniest kiss in their co-starring film, Reflections in a Golden Eye. Could this be at the request of Elizabeth? She has sworn that she will never kiss any man, in or out of pictures, save for her husband, Richard Burton. After Reflection, her next three films are with Richard, and she might retire soon after that.

Peter Sellers was persuaded he'd be better off to allow someone else to direct The Bobo, seeing that he was starring in the movie with his wife. He agreed to step down and now Robert Parrish, who directed some of Peter's sequences in Casino Royale, has taken over. But only as director—otherwise Peter is in full charge. He hired an Italian still photographer to take pictures on the set and no one else is allowed to. He also hired an Italian publicity man to disseminate the news of the picture to the whole world. Warner Brothers, financing and releasing the picture, hope it adds up to a profit. Sellers took French leave from the film in Rome and spent three days in Paris doing a cameo role for Joe Levine in Shirley MacLaine's Seven Times Woman.

Here's one for the James Joyce book. The film version of Ulysses, made entirely in Dublin, has been banned for public showing in his native Ireland! The Joseph Strick production will open in 150 theatres March 14, with a private showing only in Ireland. . . . Coming up for Strick, who deals only with the best authors, Nathaniel West's The Day of the Locusts.

Lee Marvin finally wrapped up The Dirty Dozen and winged to Hollywood to visit his girl, Michelle Triola. . . . Director Terence Young and wife Dora, with a grown-up son and daughter, adopted a three-week-old girl. Terence is now directing the new Tony Quinn picture in Elba and Rome.

Richard Brooks and Columbia have a big hit in The Professionals. A great big colorful western with sit-on-the-edge-of-seat surprises all the way. Not one moment of boredom as I was happy to tell head man Mike Frankovich after the private showing in Soho Square. Burt Lancaster, rough, tough and sexy is the old Burt of The Killers. This is his best picture since Elmer Gantry which won him the Oscar and was also directed by Richard Brooks. . . . Woody Strode, the famed football player of two or three decades ago is excellent as is Lee Marvin. Good western drama—10 men are bang-banged off in the space of 17 seconds. Robert Ryan, Claudia Cardinale, they could all bag some awards.

Maurice Jarre, responsible for the music in Dr. Zhivago, The Professionals, and so many fine films has been appointed head of the music department at Paramount. This delights his wife, Dany Robin, loves life in Hollywood.

Director Anthony Mann has bought Carl Foreman's beautiful duplex apartment overlooking Hyde Park. His next movie, Danby in Aspic, will star Laurence Harvey, Tom Courtenay, Orson Welles, and will be filmed, starting in January, in London and Berlin. . . . Vas Heflin, in town to film the first of 27 feature-length segments for a series called The Man Outside. They will be released as movies in Europe, but on television back home.

On the program last Sunday night, I thought Pearl Bailey was going to cough British far-out comedian Spike Milligan who irritated her all the way through, interrupting her singing and he reached a height of tactlessness when he called her "a black pearl." I'm sure he was trying to pay her a compliment, but it misfired and host Eamonn Andrews did not have control of the situation. Pearl is a hit in Talk of the Town.

I wonder if you will agree with Christopher (Frankenstein) Lee that the Bond films and the U.N.C.L.E. series are more sadistic than Frankenstein and Dracula put together. When I asked Chris, "What do you think of modern youth in England?" He replied, "I think they need a wash and a haircut and a good swift kick in the pants." Lee is planning to desert horror roles—"I find I can do comedy better than anything else."

Menace of Power

SYDNEY HARRIS

Can we ever dethrone "power" as a primary human goal? This is perhaps the most important question the human race can ask itself today. For if we cannot, then perhaps all our efforts toward peace and equity are futile.

Every power structure the world has ever known has fallen, sooner or later, to be replaced by another power structure and another power elite. And the new has proved no more able than the old to prevent the same cycle from recurring.

It seems to make little difference whether the power structure is "good" or "bad." To broaden Lord Acton's dictum, power corrupts not only individuals but whole societies as well—and we find the "good governments behaving no better than the 'bad' ones in a power crisis."

But is it possible or realistic to do away with power as a primary human goal? Is it not a Utopian dream that the basic motivations of people in the future might be directed toward other—and higher—values? Nobody, of course, knows the answer. But history is rapidly moving us closer to the question—for power has now grown so immense that we fallible mortals can hardly be trusted with it.

In physics, we know that "action and reaction are equal." In human affairs, much the same seems to be true. The power of Czarism gave rise to the power of Bolshevism. The domination of white power in America is now being threatened by the concept of black power. And the overthrow of colonial power in Asia and Africa has given a new nationalist power that is just as menacing to world order.

In the light of our new and suicidal technology, it may be time—to bring into question the whole concept of a power-orientated society. And this is a question that goes far beyond politics; for it asks whether any group or elite or nation can be entrusted to preserve the human race, when nearly any/all about?

It is not that the world must be run without power—an obvious impossibility—but that power no longer be the primary goal of society, that it become a subordinate to values that make for survival, not for self-destruction. Is this not basically the what our neglected religions are any/all about?

Perhaps we are doomed to the cycle of rising and collapsing civilizations, as the brooding Spengler predicted long ago. But what he could not know—and what we now know all too well—is that our 20th century conquest of the atom contains the capacity to bring all life to an end on this planet. Extinction, not repetition, may easily be our fate.

It is not that the world must be run without power—an obvious impossibility—but that power no longer be the primary goal of society, that it become a subordinate to values that make for survival, not for self-destruction. Is this not basically the what our neglected religions are any/all about?

Gaps Filled In

OTTAWA (CP) — A document tabled Friday in the Commons confirms the contention of dismissed Rear-Admiral William Landymore that the defence department

deleted his references to a "desperate" shortage of naval personnel from his brief prepared for the defence committee June 23.

Defence Minister Hellyer tabled without comment the original brief as prepared by the admiral and the defence department's edited version which the admiral presented to the committee.

Outside the Commons, Mr. Hellyer told reporters that the minister has the right to determine what armed forces officers can tell a committee. An officer must conform to government policy or resign. The document showed that the defence department also deleted from Admiral Landymore's prepared brief a suggestion for a sea blockade of Cyprus to help protect the United Nations peacekeeping force there.

Deleted was this sentence, among others: "It is well

Hydro Bill Going Up?

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier Bennett said Friday B.C. Hydro may have to impose a temporary "moderate" increase in electricity rates to offset higher interest charges on the Peace River hydro project.

In a telephone interview from Ottawa, the premier said Hydro must operate in the black if it is to maintain the confidence of investors who buy bonds. He would not forecast the amount of the possible increase, but he said it probably would not cancel all of the savings of three rate cuts over three years.

HEALTHY TOTAL
Hydro has said these cuts have reduced rates by a total of $20,000,000 a year.

The premier was in Ottawa for the federal-provincial fiscal conference, at which he also presented demands for federal aid to offset higher interest rates and other charges on the Columbia River project. (See Page 11.)

TWO YEARS AWAY

He said the possible electricity-rate increase would last only until Peace power flows into the hydro system, about October, 1968.

His statement came a day after Dr. Gordon Shrum, co-chairman of Hydro, said increased electricity rates were a possible solution to higher interest charges for Peace borrowing.

Resources Minister Williston, a director of Hydro, agreed an increase "might make sense."

Global TV Due in June

LONDON (Reuters)—Viewers in at least nine countries will be able to watch the world's first around-the-world television linkup by space satellite next June, a Soviet official said Friday.

Countries which have agreed to co-operate are Canada, the U.S., Britain, Poland, Russia, Australia, Japan, Mexico and India.

By WILLIAM THOMAS

It was crisp and cool Friday in Cariboo but the political climate would have ripened wet hay.

Cowboys and ranchers from all over the vast, sprawling riding gathered at Barlow Siding near Quesnel for a cattle sale but Robert Bonner's chances topped beef prices as a talking point while the boys sipped rum-stiffened coffee.

With the ink hardly dry on the writ for the Nov. 28 by-election the issue is already clear. Can an outsider—even of cabinet rank—carry the day?

POSITION CLEAR

Feeling is running high and, during Friday afternoon, more than 30 men wandered into the office of Quesnel Mayor Alex Fraser urging him to oppose Mr. Bonner's bid for the seat vacated by William Speare.

Mayor Fraser said: "I want to get my position clear. I am in favor of Bonner but the reaction is violent from the guy on the street.

"The people who are in from the ranches for the cattle sale here are really mad. They are not mad at any one in particular but they insist they will just not vote for Bonner.

"Cariboo people are just a bunch of homers at heart and Bonner is an import. They just will not buy that package or at least that's what they are saying right now."

"The feeling is that once Bonner got elected he would not care about Cariboo, he has no interest in Cariboo and nobody is buying the guff that having a cabinet minister representing us is such a great thing."

BOTH HOUSES

Mayor Fraser said he has had "people coming in to see me and phoning me ever since Speare phoned the radio station to announce he was quitting. They want me to run but I will give my answer after I have thought about this. There is my business and family to consider."

The Fraser family is well-known in public life in Cariboo. The mayor's father, John Fraser, represented Cariboo in

Priests Plan Pub To Curb Drinking

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—Two Anglican priests plan to open a pub near Laurentian University here next fall to teach students how to drink English-style.

Rev. Edward Fuller and Rev. Kolin Clay want an equivalent of the famous Nag's Head Tavern in London in operation for the opening of the college next year.

Prices would be the same as in local beer parlors and cocktail lounges. The big difference, the priests say, would be that students would be encouraged to play cribbage, darts and checkers and make one beer last all evening.

"Present outlets tend to be booze-oriented, concerned more about consumption rather than people," Mr. Fuller, rector at a local church, said in an interview Friday.

"Since a large number of students are going to drink anyway, we prefer to provide them with a setting which stresses the moderate and social use of alcohol as an alternative to the current type of Ontario beverage rooms."

Judgment for Jayne in Vancouver

Unidentified Vancouver policewoman at right gave Jayne Mansfield thorough once-over Friday when actress visited magistrate's court to further what she calls her interest in penology. As she did so,

Upper House Defeat Puts Skids Under Chancellor

BONN (Reuters)—West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, his face grey with fatigue, discussed with his depleted cabinet Friday the near-hopeless situation facing his government.

Four Free Democrat ministers walked out of the coalition cabinet Thursday, leaving the ruling Christian Democratic party with a minority in Parliament and precipitating a crisis expected to lead to the chancellor's downfall.

Friday, the government suffered its first parliamentary defeat when the Bundestag (Upper House) threw out the 1967 budget.

The Bundestag provides the 10 West German state governments with their direct representation in the federal government and even the six Christian Democratic states joined in unanimously rejecting the budget.

For now Erhard is carrying on and he has asked ministers of his own party to take over the four vacant cabinet posts.

But Opposition Social Democrats sources said it is only a matter of time before the wheels of government grind to a halt over parliamentary resistance to the budget.

WAY BLOCKED

The Bundestag (Lower House) will debate the budget Nov. 8 and the Social Democrats are bound to vote against it with the Free Democrats.

The combined opposition parties can muster 251 votes while the Christian Democrats have only 245 and the way to parliamentary approval is blocked. Constitutionally, the Christian Democrats could carry on without a budget, with restricted spending and revenue powers sufficient to enable the government to fulfil essential obligations.

Further, Power Corporation of Canada injected about $9,000,000 of its own money into the Laurentide stream in return for 3,000,000 subordinated common shares.

Despite this assistance, Laurentide directors have decided that for the meantime at least there will be no dividends on the common or preferred stock.

UN Requests Thant Stay

UNITED NATIONS (Reuters)—The Security Council adopted Friday a resolution asking U Thant to carry on as secretary-general until the current General Assembly session ends Dec. 20.

The 15-nation council, meeting in private, took only 15 minutes to reach the decision and issue an official communique.

The assembly will meet Tuesday to endorse the request.

By HARRY YOUNG, Business Editor

The most profound shock to hit the Canadian investment field since the collapse of Atlantic Acceptance last year, came late on Friday when Laurentide Financial Corporation suspended payment on all its preferred and common shares.

The news broke just shortly before the close of the eastern markets and the common and the five classes of preferred stock had hardly time to reflect the market opinion of the situation.

On the Vancouver Exchange, which remains open for an extra 90 minutes, Laurentide common stock dropped from $5.50 to $3.50 and there was little or no bidding for the preferred shares.

NO ASSURANCE

A statement by the Vancouver-based finance company said that dividends had been suspended until earnings improved. This was not expected to happen before the end of the current fiscal year, which is next year.

No assurance was given that the dividends would be resumed at that time.

LOSS RECORDED

In its last fiscal year ended June 30, Laurentide recorded a loss of nearly $10,000,000, against a net profit of $3,700,000 the previous year.

Earlier the firm had been saved when control was taken over by Power Corporation of Canada. It ousted Peter Paul Saunders and Andrew Saxton from the top seats in Laurentide and instituted new accounting practices which wiped out many of the paper assets claimed by the old management.

Further, Power Corporation of Canada injected about $9,000,000 of its own money into the Laurentide stream in return for 3,000,000 subordinated common shares.

Despite this assistance, Laurentide directors have decided that for the meantime at least there will be no dividends on the common or preferred stock.

All-Church Summit On War?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Methodist Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of Philadelphia said Friday there is a possibility that world church leaders, including Pope Paul, might meet to discuss the Viet Nam fighting.

"I think it would be a great advantage to our country and the world confessional bodies which would produce a statement on peace," Bishop Corson said.

He returned Thursday night after meeting the Roman Catholic pontiff at the Vatican.

Russia, Arabs Stall Action In Border Row

From UPI

With a new border incident rumbling in the background, a Soviet-Arab coalition Friday night forced the United Nations Security Council to adjourn without taking action on Israel's complaint of Syrian aggression.

A Jerusalem report said rail service from three Israeli cities was cancelled Friday because of an Arab Commando attack which brought tension to a new high along the country's borders with its Arab neighbors.

The blasting of a Jerusalem Tel Aviv freight train on the border, only a mile from the Jordan frontier spurred Israel to demand immediate action by the United Nations to prevent a worsening of the crisis.

At the Security Council meeting Russia appeared intent on stalling the debate from the start, and Jordan further complicated matters by demanding that Secretary-General Thant supply a full report on the Middle East demilitarized zone.

In view of the 20-year border dispute, Thant warned, this might take months to fulfill. The Security Council meanwhile recommended to the General Assembly that it extend Thant's term of office to the end of the current session, scheduled to end Dec. 20. His term of office expires next Thursday.

Town Marshal vs. Town Treasurer

FORT GIBSON, Okla.

(UPI) — The state of Oklahoma took its 60-year-old anti-dueling law out of mothballs Friday against a town treasurer and a town marshal, accused of shooting it out over a $6.60 sewer bill.

But Fort Gibson treasurer Richard H. (Pete) McLemore denied it.

"That was no damn duel," McLemore said. "I was ambushed from behind a magnolia tree."

McLemore, 48, has been in Muskogee General Hospital because the Saturday shootout in front of his home "caused my heart condition to act up."

Marshal Johnny Scott was in the hospital's intensive care unit for treatment of gunshot wounds in the chest, arm and leg. Officials said Scott was unable to talk and his wife declined comment.

Both Scott, 32, and McLemore were charged with dueling and challenging for a duel.

Fort Gibson Mayor Bill Bennett was charged with being an accessory to a duel because he allegedly carried the guns away from the battle site.

McLemore was also charged with shooting with intent to kill.

McLemore said he was "ambushed" as he prepared to leave for his job as a glass factory security guard.

"He shot about 20-25 times at me," McLemore said. "He was just spraying all around and I don't know how he kept from hitting me."

McLemore said after the first burst of gunfire "I cut down on him with a shotgun I keep in my car. I never shot at his head. I shot for the bulk of him."

McLemore said he also thought three other shots came from another assailant.

"It was a planned attempt on my life," McLemore said.

"This is just an old trouble," he added, launching into an explanation of rough-and-tumble Fort Gibson politics dating back nearly 20 years to his days as town marshal and constable in the northeastern Oklahoma town of 1,000.

The latest "trouble" began last January when McLemore refused to pay a $6.60 sewer bill because his home was not connected to the sewer line.

The city later shut off McLemore's water, forcing him to drill a well. In addition to months of legal maneuvering, the dispute has included McLemore's arrest, threats and reported gun-waving incidents between the treasurer and marshal.

Assistant Muskogee county attorney Mike Kelly said the state law against dueling had been on the books "about 60 years" but that the last dueling charge filed was in 1924.

Asian Capitals Unhappy

TOKYO (UPI) — A wave of apprehension over China's on-target explosion of a rocket-delivered nuclear warhead swept Asian capitals Friday, but nearby Formosa with its U.S. atomic shield, did not appear disturbed.

Citizens of China itself danced in the streets of Peking, beating drums and gongs in praise of chairman Mao Tse-tung.

Although Formosa lies less than 100 miles east of mainland China — easy distance for even short-range missiles — President Chiang Kai-shek was reported still determined to topple the Peking regime.

The people of Taipei apparently were undisturbed by the Red Chinese feat because of their confidence in the Washington-Taiwan defence treaty.

'PROVOCATIVE ACT'

A spokesman for the Philippine foreign office called the missile launching a "provocative act" dangerous to peace and security.

There was concern in South Korea and South Viet Nam. India and Thailand also were disturbed.

Peking Radio reported Chinese celebrated the feat in the streets of Peking. "Great drums and gongs, waved red streamers, Red Guards and other revolutionary people beat drums."

Chinese Won't Stop Washington Predicts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Friday deplored China's latest nuclear explosion as polluting the atmosphere "in defiance of world opinion."

But the statement predicted Red China would conduct further tests.

Official U.S. reaction was made known by the state department one day after China announced it had successfully tested a nuclear warhead carried to its target by a guided missile.

A U.S. source said Peking's claim did not represent any "fundamental" change in the strategic balance of power in Asia or in U.S. commitments there.

Coat of Arms Removed By Tories

OTTAWA (CP) — Removal of the Canadian coat of arms from newspaper advertisements of the public works department was done by the former Conservative government, Works Minister McIlraith told the Commons Thursday.

Liberal MPs pounded their desks and roared with glee.

The minister, replying to a question posed Wednesday by John Loney (PC-Bruce), said he had found that instructions to newspapers deleting the coat of arms from ads for contract tenders went out in 1959.

Up-Islander Fined In Sooke

William Thomas of Courtenay was fined in Sooke court Friday $35 on each of two counts of false pretences. He pleaded guilty.

He was also placed on a $300 bond for two years.

The cheques, returned marked insufficient funds, were passed in Sooke in March.

Russian Blast Biggest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union set off Thursday the biggest underground nuclear blast ever recorded, American officials reported Friday.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said seismic signals showed a detonation in the intermediate- to high-yield range — meaning it approached the equivalent of 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

Intermediate yield in the AEC's terminology covers the range from 200,000 to 1,000,000 tons.

LARGER THAN U.S.

By way of comparison, the atmospheric nuclear shot announced Thursday by China was recorded in the low to low-intermediate range, or possibly as little as one-fiftieth the force of the Soviet explosion. Low yield is 20,000 tons or less, about the force of the Hiroshima bomb.

None of the U.S. underground tests at the AEC's Nevada proving grounds has been reported at more than half the force of the Soviet shot.

Cowichan Reaches Grid Finals

Tough at First, Patience Paid Off

DUNCAN — After only two years young businessmen Mel Massey and Bob Berry can honestly say their long-nurtured dream has become a reality.

BACK ROOM

In the fall of 1964, in a back room in the Commercial Hotel, Massey and Berry called together a group of football enthusiasts with the firm belief that the Cowichan Valley could support an entry in the VIJFL.

John Kistuk and Mike Worts, co-owners of the hotel, gave the initial tangible support to the scheme by donating $300 and promising free use of the room for all future executive meetings.

NO SPONSOR

Several meetings later, it was decided to place an entry in the VIJFL in 1965 and an executive was formed. It ruled against the idea of team sponsorship and cash solicitations from local businessmen, thinking that with good publicity, fan support and fund projects would benefit the organization equally as much.

Duncan is as proud of the way the club has been operated as it is with its rapid success.

From the official formation of the club it has been a case of fine community support. Almost everyone in Duncan has helped in one way or another.

The first obstacles to be overcome were the raising of $4,000 to equip the club and the finding of playing facilities. Cowichan School Board No. 65 came forward as the first on Vancouver Island to give approval for use by an outside organization of locker-room and field facilities for minor league football.

Volunteers Davidson Motors made space available in their building and the carpenters' union voluntarily erected storage racks for the equipment. B.C. Forest Products, Crofton division, joined in by donating two blocking sleds and the hurdle of facilities had been newly cleared.

Public enthusiasm was now gaining momentum and radio station CKAY promoted a team-naming contest, with Cowichan Timbermen being chosen because it best represented local industry.

Biggest Decision, Wills Quits Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers' goodwill baseball trip to Japan, which began on a slightly sour note, gained acidity Friday when Maury Wills, star shortstop and captain, left the team in Tokyo and headed home.

NO COMMENT "No comment," was the reply

Wanted: Tickets

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Football fans, finding it difficult to secure tickets for Green Bay Packer games, found some degree of comfort in this advertisement in the Brown County Chronicle:

Packer player needs Packer tickets. Have several friends visiting from out of town for Nov. 6 Packer-Viking game in Green Bay. If you have tickets for sale, please call Henry Jordan.

Jordan is a veteran lineman for the Packers, champions of the National Football League.

That much done, club officials turned to the raising of funds. In February, 1965, a $10-a-plate dinner was held to bring in $1,300. An Easter basket-drive was held in April and with their parents driving them in the door-to-door selling project, team members managed to raise another $650.

This scheme proved such a success it was adopted this year by minor league football in Vancouver.

Continuing their fund drive, club officials held a Sportsmen's Dinner in May, 1965, which featured the appearance of Joe Kapp, quarterback of the B.C. Lions.

With Art Stevenson supplying an eight-piece orchestra and car salesman Tommy Woodward, a former chef, donated his talents to cater the smorgasbord for 250 guests, the kitty was boosted by another $400.

loss in 10 games and finishing last. But they were successful in another manner—they caught the fancy of valley residents and crowds of up to 500 turned out for the games, sometimes parking in as much as $100 in collections and helping further with their business at the concession booths.

GAMES ON RADIO For those unable to attend, there were the home-game broadcasts, complete with half-time commentary, over CKAY.

Enthusiasm didn't wane after the first season. The fund-raising continued with various functions, the main one another Sportsmen's Dinner at which coach Dave Skrien of the B.C. Lions and some of his players were among the guests, and the Timbermen came out for a second season.

PLAY IMPROVED This time they were ready on the field, too. Improving steadily, they finished second with a record of five victories and two defeats. They scored 144 points in the seven games and yielded but 70, second in both offense and defense to the unbeaten Ferner's.

In the sudden-death semi-finals, Timbermen polished off the third-place Victoria Hornets, 25-2, with an impressive display.

FACE FARMERS And now it's Farmers in the two-game total-point series which opens here on Sunday. Win or lose, the Timbermen are firmly established.

"Our organization is proud of its accomplishments in introducing Canadian football to the Cowichan Valley," says vice-president Berry. "It has been our policy to gain necessary financial support from interested fans rather than solicit cash subsidies. Our members can feel proud of their accomplishments."

NOT DISCOURAGED Timbermen have a deficit of $1,600 but they are far from discouraged.

They are presently organizing a four-team bantam league for 1967.

"This," says president Massey, "will complement our juvenile team and increase our youth participation. The key to the success of this program has been the splendid co-operation of the school board and local enthusiasts. The worth of this and other programs lies in the human personality improvements which have become apparent in the boys themselves, the coaches, the fans—in general, the community."

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—An excited crowd of 20,000 persons stampeded Thursday night at the end of a baseball game in a downtown Managua stadium. First reports said at least six persons were killed and 15 others injured, many of them seriously.

MAY RESE Officials said the victims were still being brought to hospitals today and they feared the death toll would rise.

The victims were trampled as the crowd massed at the east gate of the stadium after 2 game between Leon and Cinco Estrellas (five stars) that opened the Nicaraguan professional baseball season.

CAUSE UNKNOWN What caused the stampede was not immediately known.

Before the game started police used 35 anti-government students—some of them coeds—demonstrating at the edge of the field.

New Manager LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chuck Tanner, manager at El Paso of the Texas League since 1964, has been named manager of the Seattle Angels, the California Angels' Pacific Coast League team.

Edmonton Eskimos today after practice Friday night: "If we had to beat Calgary to gain the playoffs, we would. And we're going to prove it."

Faced with the need to outscore Edmonton by 21 points to gain third place and the last playoff spot, the Stamps will need all the offensive power they can muster. Coach Jerry Williams isn't afraid of the Eskis but he respects the weatherman.

COLD GO AWAY Williams believes extreme cold or sloppy playing conditions would hamper each club's offense. Freezing temperatures have been common here the last several nights.

An Edmonton loss would leave both Alberta clubs tied with 12 points. The playoff spot then would be decided on a points-for-and-against system which currently favors the Eskis by 21 points.

LOSS COSTLY If the Stamps hadn't lost 28-26 to Saskatchewan Tuesday, the Eskimos would have needed victory tonight. A victory would seem to put Edmonton in second place with Winnipeg Blue Bombers. But not so. The Bombers have won all three encounters with the Eskis this season.

Winnipeg will meet the third-place team in Winnipeg Nov. 6 p.m. PDT.

Edmonton Thinks So

Calgary a Pushover

By The Canadian Press

Call Edmonton Eskimos brag-bag if you like, but they're out to prove Calgary Stampede is a pushover.

Both clubs lock horns here tonight in a game that could see the Eskis eat crow if they don't beat the cowboys into the Western Football Conference playoffs.

Defensive halfback Marshall Starkis summed up the Eskis' attitude before the club tipped off.

Tonight's football game between Calgary Stampede and Edmonton Eskimos will be televised over Channels 2 and 6 at 8 p.m., according to the networks concerned.

Esks, LeFebvre Rookie of Year

winner of the Dr. Beattie Martin trophy.

LeFebvre, 6-feet, 176-pound flanker played last year with Edmonton Wildcats of the Alberta junior league and topped the league in pass receptions. Born in Cold Lake, Alta., 21 years ago, he received his education in Edmonton and was the fifth Edmonton player to win the trophy in its 18-year history.

Last year's winner was Ron Forwick of Eskimos.

Rudy Reshke of Vancouver was a close second and Saskatchewan's Cliff Shaw was third in balloting.

place with Winnipeg Blue Bombers. But not so. The Bombers have won all three encounters with the Eskis this season.

to cater the smorgasbord for 250 guests, the kitty was boosted by another $400.

Booster cards were sold throughout the valley, bringing additional money into the fund and allowing for the initial purchase of equipment for the team.

Timbermen were not a gridiron success in their first season, getting one win and a loss in 10 games and finishing last. But they were successful in another manner—they caught the fancy of valley residents and crowds of up to 500 turned out for the games, sometimes parking in as much as $100 in collections and helping further with their business at the concession booths.

GAMES ON RADIO For those unable to attend, there were the home-game broadcasts, complete with half-time commentary, over CKAY.

Enthusiasm didn't wane after the first season. The fund-raising continued with various functions, the main one another Sportsmen's Dinner at which coach Dave Skrien of the B.C. Lions and some of his players were among the guests, and the Timbermen came out for a second season.

PLAY IMPROVED This time they were ready on the field, too. Improving steadily, they finished second with a record of five victories and two defeats. They scored 144 points in the seven games and yielded but 70, second in both offense and defense to the unbeaten Ferner's.

In the sudden-death semi-finals, Timbermen polished off the third-place Victoria Hornets, 25-2, with an impressive display.

FACE FARMERS And now it's Farmers in the two-game total-point series which opens here on Sunday. Win or lose, the Timbermen are firmly established.

"Our organization is proud of its accomplishments in introducing Canadian football to the Cowichan Valley," says vice-president Berry. "It has been our policy to gain necessary financial support from interested fans rather than solicit cash subsidies. Our members can feel proud of their accomplishments."

NOT DISCOURAGED Timbermen have a deficit of $1,600 but they are far from discouraged.

They are presently organizing a four-team bantam league for 1967.

"This," says president Massey, "will complement our juvenile team and increase our youth participation. The key to the success of this program has been the splendid co-operation of the school board and local enthusiasts. The worth of this and other programs lies in the human personality improvements which have become apparent in the boys themselves, the coaches, the fans—in general, the community."

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)—An excited crowd of 20,000 persons stampeded Thursday night at the end of a baseball game in a downtown Managua stadium. First reports said at least six persons were killed and 15 others injured, many of them seriously.

MAY RESE Officials said the victims were still being brought to hospitals today and they feared the death toll would rise.

The victims were trampled as the crowd massed at the east gate of the stadium after 2 game between Leon and Cinco Estrellas (five stars) that opened the Nicaraguan professional baseball season.

CAUSE UNKNOWN What caused the stampede was not immediately known.

Before the game started police used 35 anti-government students—some of them coeds—demonstrating at the edge of the field.

New Manager LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chuck Tanner, manager at El Paso of the Texas League since 1964, has been named manager of the Seattle Angels, the California Angels' Pacific Coast League team.

Edmonton Eskimos today after practice Friday night: "If we had to beat Calgary to gain the playoffs, we would. And we're going to prove it."

Faced with the need to outscore Edmonton by 21 points to gain third place and the last playoff spot, the Stamps will need all the offensive power they can muster. Coach Jerry Williams isn't afraid of the Eskis but he respects the weatherman.

COLD GO AWAY Williams believes extreme cold or sloppy playing conditions would hamper each club's offense. Freezing temperatures have been common here the last several nights.

An Edmonton loss would leave both Alberta clubs tied with 12 points. The playoff spot then would be decided on a points-for-and-against system which currently favors the Eskis by 21 points.

LOSS COSTLY If the Stamps hadn't lost 28-26 to Saskatchewan Tuesday, the Eskimos would have needed victory tonight. A victory would seem to put Edmonton in second place with Winnipeg Blue Bombers. But not so. The Bombers have won all three encounters with the Eskis this season.

Winnipeg will meet the third-place team in Winnipeg Nov. 6 p.m. PDT.

A Dollar a Goal Committee Aim For Andy's Night

Hockey fans who go to Memorial Arena tonight to watch Victoria Maple Leafs play a Western Hockey League fixture against Los Angeles Blades will see in the lobby a new "booth" with a sign which will say something about an Andy Heberton Night at Memorial Arena on Nov. 30.

There will be someone in attendance and he, or she, will be accepting donations of one (1) dollar from fans for a special presentation to the popular Victoria winger on his "night."

The thought is to raise the sum of $1,000—one dollar for each consecutive scheduled game of hockey played by Heberton in a professional career which dates back to 1949.

The name of each donor will be taken and registered on a framed scroll which will be presented to Heberton in the feature presentation on Nov. 30.

ON ROAD It had been hoped that the Western Hockey League schedule would call for Heberton playing his 1,000th consecutive game on home ice so that the event could be marked on the night that it happened. But Heberton is scheduled to play game No. 1,000 in Oakland on Nov. 12 and it has been decided to hold his "night" on Nov. 30.

FERGUSON HEADS Decision was made at a meeting of interested hockey fans yesterday. "Travel" Ferguson was named general-chairman of the committee set up to plan the gala evening to commemorate a record unmatched in sports history.

Assurance of support has already been received from many city business firms and individuals but the chief item on Nov. 30 will be the presentation of a $1,000 Canada savings bond and the framed scroll with the names of supporting fans inscribed.

MAKE DONATIONS Fans may make their donations at any Victoria home game between now and Nov. 16 or at Price and Smith, 652 Yates Street. They should be sure to leave their names, correctly spelled.

"This," said Ferguson yesterday, "just has to be the biggest night in at least modern Victoria hockey history. Heberton's record is an amazing one and his on-the-ice achievements have been matched off the ice. It's a pleasure to be able to help in something like this."

DURABLE Heberton's hockey achievements include a record for durability completely unmatched in sport.

He hasn't missed a scheduled game since 1952, when he started his third season with the Victoria Cougars.

Since then, he has set a National Hockey League record of 330 consecutive games—nine seasons without a miss, then returned to the WHL to play two more seasons without a miss and start a third. At the moment, he needs less than a season and a half to break Bill Davidson's WHL record of 553 consecutive games.

NO PLAYOFFS Tonight's game will be his 694th consecutive league game. He actually reached 1,000 consecutive games last season but playoff games are not officially recognized in his consecutive-game streak.

For any player to play that long without a miss there has to be more than a rugged physique and an outlook that pays no heed to minor hurts. There has to be ability, and Heberton has that, too.

31-GOAL AVERAGE He scored 189 goals, an average of 21 a season, in his NHL career. He had an NHL high of 33 goals and was voted the winner of the Lady Byng Trophy for his play in the 1956-57 season.

In the WHL, where all but one of his eight seasons have been with a Victoria club, he has scored 209 goals and been credited with 209 assists in 490 games. He was all-star right-winger in 1955 and again in 1965 and won the Hume Trophy, Byng award in 1965.

Band Holds Convention

COWICHAN — The Vancouver Indian Tribal Federation annual convention will be held at the Duncan Recreation centre today and Sunday.

The general theme will be Unity, and Social and Economic Progress. One of the main questions for debate will be: What does the future hold for the Indian people?

Registration for the convention will begin at 9 a.m. today and a fee of $1 will be charged. This includes a ticket for a banquet tonight. The banquet will be held in the Tzouhalem Hotel at 7.

Guest speakers will be Chief Andrew Delisle from the Cagahwaugwa Reserve, Quebec, Mayor Jack Dobson and Reeve Donald Morton.

The convention schedule is as follows: registration 9 a.m.-10 a.m.; 10:15-11:30 p.m., a general meeting with a review of past efforts of the organization followed by an open discussion. At 2 p.m., Chief Philip Pau will speak on social and economic progress.

Other guest speakers are Leonard Marchand, special assistant to Arthur Laing, minister of northern affairs and national resources, and leaders of other Indian organizations and officials of the fish and game department.

Today's convention is open to the general public. Sunday's convention will be closed for election of officers.

TOFINO — The pupils of the industrial class at the Ucluelet secondary school were recently taken to Kennedy Lake division of MacMillan Bloedel. The different departments of the logging operations were explained to the students, who were headed by their teacher G. Ashton.

The guests were taken on the tour in a radio-controlled truck and saw the fallers falling timber.

The group next went to the yarding and loading area, observing how logs are loaded by the hookender. Then the students watched road construction near Lost Lake, where rock blasting is carried on.

CHEMUNIS — Private

For Rural Trustees

Elections Near

COURTENAY — School trustees face visits to all rural areas in the school district in November.

Meetings held annually in rural areas, when school trustees present their yearly statements and election of rural representatives take place, will be held in District 71 that month.

The meetings this year will be held between Nov. 3 and Nov. 15.

The rural areas of Courtenay, Cumberland, Comox and Tso-lum each elect three representatives and one is elected for each of the areas of Denman Island, Hornby Island, Black Creek, Union Bay-Fanny Bay and Royston.

From the rural representatives so elected or appointed two are elected to sit on the school board. The remainder of the board is made up of elected representatives from municipalities.

Lorrie William Vater was injured in a car crash in May of this year. He died from injuries suffered in the accident after being taken to Victoria Jubilee Hospital.

He was predeceased by his father, the late George William Vater.

He is survived by his mother, one brother, Roy, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Dwyer, besides several aunts and uncles.

QUALICUM BEACH — Preliminary talks between representatives of the Mt. Arrowsmith Teachers' Association and the school board of District 69 have been held in the past two weeks. The teachers are seeking an increase of 9.9 per cent on the overall payroll, with the school board countering with a proposed basic scale increase of 4.9 per cent, plus fringe benefits.

The 9.9 per cent sought by the teachers represents an approximate increase of $45,264 in salaries, while the 4.9 per cent increase proposed by the school board would amount to some $22,310. The present basic payroll cost for the district is an increase of 9.9 per cent on $457,715.

As no agreement regarding the basic salary scale was arrived at during two initial meetings, a third round of the talks has been scheduled. Last year, teachers belonging to the Mt. Arrowsmith association in the district received an arbitration award amounting to $20,187, or 5.115 per cent increase over the 1964 basic payroll figure.

UCLUELET — The Ucluelet Recreation Commission is sponsoring the annual Halloween party.

It will be held Monday at the Recreation Hall at 7 p.m. On the agenda will be costume parade, treats for the young fry, prizes for different classes of costumes, fireworks and bonfire.

The volunteer fire brigade will be in charge of the fireworks. Every child is welcome.

League Formed

Hub City Joins Pollution Battle

NANAIMO — B.C.'s war on pollution has reached the Hub City.

The Citizens' Anti-Pollution League has been officially formed. Its aim is to pressure governments at all levels to determine and combat pollution. The meeting followed the founding get-together of the organization, earlier this month in Port Alberni.

Nanaimo's president was Nanaimo Ald. Ted Barsby. George McKnight, co-chairman of the Alberni Citizens' Committee on Pollution, is secretary.

Mr. Barsby said the league will promote anti-pollution groups throughout the province. He said the league has adopted a slogan: Guard the quality of our environment. "We also hope to form committees in all island communities, with labor, industry, city councils and chambers of commerce represented," he said.

Representation at the meeting came from other island centres — Victoria, Campbell River, Alberni, Sayward and Courtenay.

To Vancouver

Students Join Indian Trek

University students from Victoria and the mainland will march on Vancouver with the Cowichan Indian Band Dec. 5.

About 150 students from University of Victoria and UBC have said they will actively support the Cowichan Band's demand for better housing.

Victoria students have offered to charter their own buses. The marching Indians will be met in Vancouver by the UBC contingent.

PLEDGE SUPPORT — The Vancouver Island Tribal Federation has pledged its support for the march. Saanich, Nanaimo, Kuper Island and Chemainus Bay Indians all have promised to participate.

There will be about 7,000 Indians involved in the venture. No explanation was given for selection of Vancouver for the march.

ABOUT 800 — Abraham Joe, chairman of the Cowichan Band's grievance committee, said about 800 Indians from his band alone will take part in this demonstration for Indian rights.

"My wife's grandfather, who is more than 100 years old, will march," said Mrs. Joe.

Teen-age boys and girls — as well as men and women — are canvassing the reserve for funds, donations ranging from $5 to $20.

COMPANIES HELP — Mr. Joe said funds were strictly from non-whites but many whites — including "several big companies," have offered financial help.

Mr. Joe has no idea how much the march is going to cost transport marchers from Duncan to Nanaimo.

From there they will file onto the boat for Vancouver.

Many Indians in the Vancouver district have offered their homes to the marchers and other housing will be provided, Mr. Joe said.

He maintained the marchers will hold all-night vigils. "I don't care how long it takes," he said. "This is it... this is the fight."

Teen Town Elects New Slate

UCLUELET — Several new officers were elected at the recent annual meeting of Ucluelet Teen Town.

Gill Poole, daughter of Richard W. Poole, chairman of Ucluelet commissioners, was elected Teen Town mayor.

Other officers — Garry Payne, vice-president; Janice Ashcroft, secretary; Linda Payne, treasurer. Chaparrones were Mr. and Mrs. A. Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mead-Miller.

Island Slag Not Dangerous

Even Vancouver Island has its coal slag heaps, though they're not as big nor as numerous as in Wales. This is one of largest at Extension, near Nanaimo. Mine was one of biggest on Island; has been closed for many years. Heap remains, yet poses no threat as buildings are fair distance away and on higher ground than slag heap.—(Agnes Flett)

By Teacher Group

Trustee Praised

PORT ALBERNI — The Alberni District Teachers' Association strongly supports the stand of long-term school trustee Gerald Gray.

Mr. Gray resigned from School District 70 board recently after the board decided salary settlements would be handled by a negotiator from the B.C. School Trustees' Association.

Mr. Gray was chairman of the committee which last May came to an agreement with the teachers. But the school board later failed to ratify the settlement.

The veteran trustee, who had been on the board for 28 consecutive years, feels teacher salary talks should be conducted at the local board level.

A statement issued Friday by the teachers' association says: "Although it has taken more than five months for Alberni school district board to inform the teachers, they are interested to learn the reasons why the board rejected the salary settlement that the board committee of Richard Christie, R. McDonald and G. W. Gray negotiated in May, 1966.

"This committee and that of the teachers' association met and came to an agreement. Relations at this time had become cordial; and, for a while, it appeared that the board, and teachers, had overcome the unproductive results and the dissatisfaction generated through the board's employment of a paid negotiator during last year's negotiations.

'HIGH LEVEL'

"The Alberni district teachers' respect for Mr. Gray remains, as it has for years, at a very high level.

"Mr. Gray consistently has shown a willingness to use his time and effort to consider all aspects of educational problems.

WATCHED DOLLAR

"He has adhered to a principle of teaching quality education for the children of the Alberni Valley; but, he also has insisted that value be received for the citizens' tax dollars.

"In his resignation, the children of the Alberni district have lost the services of an aware, conscientious citizen."

Indian Commissioner Flailed by Housewives

COWICHAN — About one dozen housewives on the Cowichan Reserve have gotten together and written an angry letter of protest to Indian commissioner J. V. Boys, it was disclosed Friday.

The women have asked Mr. Boys in the letter, "Have you ever had to live with a family of six to 10 children in a two or three-bedroom home throughout the winter months? Try to knit one sweater a week from raw wool, care for the children, cook for the family, clean house which includes carrying water, heating it and chopping wood and continuously fill the wood stove to give the un-insulated house enough heat for the creeping babies to crawl on the floor."

The letter said it was easy for the commissioner to insult Indian housekeeping when he sat in a well insulated home or office complete with the proper appliances.

The official had criticized Indians for "sloppy housekeeping" earlier this week.

He Cuffed Her Instead of Him

DUNCAN — A 22-year-old man who "hit the wrong person" was hit in his pocketbook in magistrate's court.

Bruce Hamilton Bailey was fined $100 for assault causing bodily harm.

Douglas James Ford said he and Gail Woods were in the back seat of a car when the accused struck Miss Woods.

Bailey said he was drinking on the day of the incident when he met Ford in Duncan. Together they and a third party went driving around.

After getting into an argument over beer, he said, they picked up Miss Woods.

For Libraries

Merger Seen

ALBERNI — Library service could become a concentrated effort after the Alberni's merger.

Ald. Charles Blair has suggested to council the new merged city could build a library in the new centennial centre to serve both north and south portions.

City council agreed to discuss the future library service with Port Alberni and School District 70 representatives.

Ald. John Williamson, council representative on the Vancouver Island regional library board, said the board had adopted a preliminary budget of $345,245 for 1967, compared to $301,000 in 1966.

Alberni's share would be boosted from $10,544 to $12,946.

Ald. Williamson said the regional library board is considering extending its service to Gold River and Ucluelet-Tofino areas.

Food Prices Differ

Deviation Noted In Survey

By RUTH McKELLAR

COURTENAY — Spiralling food costs, and ever-increasing demands for higher wages finally have angered Canadian women.

The women of Canada are up in arms over soaring food prices and have formed themselves into a group known as W.A.S.P.S.

A price check taken in Courtenay involved three large supermarkets sold the same product at $1.19 and $1.21 a pound.

Flour ranged from 61 cents for five pounds at two supermarkets to 63 cents at the independent dealer and 73 cents at a third large market.

Other prices of soap, canned milk, cake mix, toothpaste, chain stores and one smaller independent store.

Thirteen grocery items, picked at random had differences in prices ranging from two to 24 cents.

The price of wild rice showed the greatest difference in cost with the independent store selling for 24 cents below two larger stores.

On the other hand the price of coffee in the supermarkets was 10 cents lower than the smaller business selling price.

Bacon prices produced an interesting combination with one supermarket selling at 99 cents per pound, the same as a small store, while two other baby food and juice only showed a price variation of two cents.

What causes the fluctuation in the prices is the $64 question housewives are asking themselves.

If, as it has been claimed, prices here are higher because of freight rates, why then does this not equalize the cost in all stores?

These and other questions are being asked and some stores already have replied by reducing prices.

The accompanying table of prices shows A, B and C as large chain stores and D a smaller independent store.

Congress Today

Planners Meet

NANAIMO — The annual Vancouver Island Community Planning Congress will be held at the Credit Union Building auditorium today at 2 p.m.

Mayor Pete Maffeo will open the congress. Other speakers will include Dr. Gordon R. Bell, chairman of the Nanaimo advisory planning commission; Harry R. Wipper, superintendent of civic properties and recreation; John B. Litch, supervisor of elementary education in Nanaimo; and Dr. Leonard Marsh from UBC.

Dr. Marsh plans a 45-minute presentation on planning for recreation and education.

He was responsible for a regional college survey north of the Malahat and recommended a college be constructed at Wellington, north of Nanaimo, with a branch campus in the vicinity of Courtenay and Campbell River.

Comox Valley Goes White

Fresh Snow Creates Enthusiasm

COURTENAY — With fresh snow on the hills surrounding the Comox Valley ski enthusiasts are eagerly awaiting the winter sport season.

Construction of additional tow facilities, however, has brought problems for Mount Becher Ski Development Society.

The expenditure of $70,000 on 3,500 feet of new up-run ski facilities has caused the ski society to set a new rate structure for the 1966-67 season. Daily rates on the use of all ski lift facilities will increase from $3 to $4 for adults and from $2-$2.50 for children. A "child" is anyone under 17 years of age on Jan. 1.

ROPE TOW

However, daily tickets on the rope tow have been decreased from $1.50-$1 for adults. Children's tickets for the rope tow remain at $1.

Season tickets for the use of all facilities are good on all days of operation. Season rates are adults $45 and children $30. Family season tickets remain low with the first member paying $45, the second $30, the third $10, the fourth $10 and the fifth $5. The maximum family season ticket rate is $100.

Clock Time Again

Don't look now but it's that time again.

Summer is over, the fall weather is getting chillier and chiller, in fact it's overcast weather on beautiful Vancouver Island.

Now comes the last straw. In the spring we look forward to putting the clock ahead an hour to give us more time to play golf and get out in the garden.

Now it is fall and the time has come to lose an hour — the hour of daylight.

So put the clock BACK one hour early Sunday morning. Seems an awful thing to have to do but we can always look forward to Christmas and New Year and next spring.

With a little ingenuity and drive, Indians can be — and some are — as progressive as any white men. Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes said Thursday.

In an address to the B.C. Historical Association, Mr. Pearkes singled out the community of Port Simpson as a progressive and modern village.

(Port Simpson is located mouth of the Ness River. It was one of numerous villages and communities recently visited by the Pearkes.)

The lieutenant-governor had particular praise for this group because they had gone ahead and developed natural resources on the reserve area.

The Port Simpson Indians had built up their own lumber industry, supplying timber for

Scouts Lack Men

COURTENAY — The lack of leaders for Scouts and Cubs has reached a state of emergency in this area. This was disclosed at a meeting when the Comox District Scout Council convened for discussion in the Legion Hall.

First Courtenay Scouts and Cubs and the Royston troop are without leaders. They are faced with the loss of their charters unless volunteers are found to take on the leadership.

R. T. Farrington, regional chairman, and Dave Pettie, regional executive director, Nanaimo, attended the meeting to discuss the shortage.

ASSISTS ALL

District council is organized to assist all group committees in the district. It is the duty of group committees to make sure each is represented at all council meetings. This obligation has not been met over the past two years leaving council lacking information on group committee needs and problems.

It was decided to publicize names of all members of group committees as an aid to parents of the boys.

A general discussion brought out the point that leaders need not be experienced Scouters. A willingness to serve, not only in this emergency, but as a matter of community service in guiding young boys through to responsible men, is a major requisite for leaders.

Many fathers would make excellent leaders if they would just rearrange their lives to include time each week as volunteers in Scouting, it was stressed.

The boys are waiting; the need is urgent, the meeting agreed.

A special tree farm committee was also named at the meeting.

The committee has called a tree cutting work bee as first activity in the annual sale of Christmas trees from the Scout Tree Farm.

Fine Ferry Trip Recalls Storm

By BEA HAMILTON

FULFORD — Captain and Mrs. George Maude recently have returned from a tour up the coast on board the Northern Prince, and also on the Queen of Prince Rupert. Both tours were most enjoyable, says Mrs. Maude, with fine weather all the way.

She also tells of a trip made 28 years ago which wasn't quite such fun as it was in a 12-foot rowboat in the Salt Spring Islands waters.

SMALL BOAT

Mrs. Maude and Dr. Peter Bryant, George Ashley Maude, then 13, and the Bryant's nephew, Kenneth Bryant, were all aboard the small boat and off to see the sights around Beddis Beach, not far from Beaver Point.

Everything was fine until the tide and wind started cutting up and then the overloaded little boat was in trouble.

There followed a battle between the boat and sea and finally the boat managed to land at Beddis Beach.

LONG WALK

The party walked along the coast to Beaver Point where they rested on logs on the beach, which was considerably nearer home.

"The logs which we sat upon 28 years ago are still lying on the shore," said Mrs. Maude. They will most likely still be there in another 28 years' time.

Last week, Kenneth Bryant returned to visit the Maudes, with his wife.

ON TOUR

They have been on a tour of this country and are now en route to England and home.

Kenneth's aunt, Dr. Meta Bryant, is currently living in England.

Many happy memories surround the Bryant home in the hill now known locally as Bryant's Mountain. From the big mule, that had a will of its own and an uncertain voice, the spotted dog that never did anything right and the billygoat who hated politicians and was known to butt them off the premises, the pounds of Rocheforte cheese that came out of their cheese factory, and the many happy hours spent at their mountain home ... the Bryant memories are pleasant ones even though the old home long has gone back to the jungle.

Driver Fined $1,000

NANAIMO — Erin Leonard Enns, 23, of Black Creek near Courtenay, was fined $1,000 Friday, to be paid immediately, or three months at Okalla prison farm in lieu of the fine, for dangerous driving.

Justice T. K. Browne also prohibited Enns from driving in Canada until April 30, 1968, the second anniversary of the accidental death of Glen Howard McCannan, passenger in Enns' car, which went off of the road, 13 miles south of Campbell River.

"Although suffering from small penalties from time to time, you did not learn," said Justice Browne in sentencing, and held Enns "accountable for the death" of McCannan.

"The needless slaughter on our highways must somehow be pointed up," he concluded.

Pearkes Singles Out Port Simpson

Natives Match Whites

With a little ingenuity and drive, Indians can be — and some are — as progressive as any white men. Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes said Thursday.

In an address to the B.C. Historical Association, Mr. Pearkes singled out the community of Port Simpson as a progressive and modern village.

(Port Simpson is located mouth of the Ness River. It was one of numerous villages and communities recently visited by the Pearkes.)

The lieutenant-governor had particular praise for this group because they had gone ahead and developed natural resources on the reserve area.

The Port Simpson Indians had built up their own lumber industry, supplying timber for use of the Indians — and they'd succeeded in raising $20,000 in two years to assist local children in obtaining a higher education.

Speaking in the Douglas Building cafeteria, Mr. Pearkes said he was well aware that many reserves did not have the natural resources to develop.

This, he said, was mainly the fault of the Indians' forebears who had shown no concern for the hinterland at the time reserve boundaries were being marked out.

Indians responsible for establishing boundaries were mainly concerned with having good water access and frontage. If they had had foresight, Mr. Pearkes said, they'd have been able to see the benefit of maintaining large tracts of timber.

Gaps Filled In

OTTAWA (CP) — A document tabled Friday in the Commons confirms the contention of dismissed Rear-Admiral William Landymore that the defence department

deleted his references to a "desperate" shortage of naval personnel from his brief prepared for the defence committee June 23.

Defence Minister Hellyer tabled without comment the original brief as prepared by the admiral and the defence department's edited version which the admiral presented to the committee.

Hydro Bill Going Up?

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier Bennett said Friday B.C. Hydro may have to impose a temporary "moderate" increase in electricity rates to offset higher interest charges on the Peace River hydro project.

In a telephone interview from Ottawa, the premier said Hydro must operate in the black if it is to maintain the confidence of investors who buy bonds.

He would not forecast the amount of the possible increase, but he said it probably would not cancel all of the savings of three rate cuts over three years.

HEALTHY TOTAL
Hydro has said these cuts have reduced rates by a total of $20,000,000 a year.

The premier was in Ottawa for the federal-provincial fiscal conference, at which he also presented demands for federal aid to offset higher interest rates and other charges on the Columbia River project. (See Page 11.)

TWO YEARS AWAY
He said the possible electricity rate increase would last only until Peace power flows into the hydro system, about October, 1968.

His statement came a day after Dr. Gordon Shrum, co-chairman of Hydro, said increased electricity rates were a possible solution to higher interest charges for Peace borrowing.

Resources Minister Williston, a director of Hydro, agreed an increase "might make sense."

Global TV Due in June

Countries which have agreed to co-operate are Canada, the U.S., Britain, Poland, Russia, Australia, Japan, Mexico and India.

Bonner-Backing Mayor May Carry Tory Banner

By WILLIAM THOMAS

It was crisp and cool Friday in Cariboo but the political climate would have ripened wet hay.

Cowboys and ranchers from all over the vast, sprawling riding gathered at Barlow Siding near Quesnel for a cattle sale but Robert Bonner's chances topped best prices as a talking point while the boys sipped rum-stiffened coffee.

With the ink hardly dry on the writ for the Nov. 28 by-election the issue is already clear. Can an outsider—even of cabinet rank—carry the day?

POSITION CLEAR

Feeling is running high and, during Friday afternoon, more than 30 men wandered into the office of Quesnel Mayor Alex Fraser urging him to oppose Mr. Bonner's bid for the seat vacated by William Speare.

Mayor Fraser said: "I want to get my position clear. I am in favor of Bonner."

Fraser

but the reaction is violent from the guy on the street. "The people who are in from the ranches for the cattle sale here are really mad. They are not mad at any one in particular but they insist they will just not vote for Bonner."

"Cariboo people are just a bunch of homers at heart and Bonner is an import. They just will not buy that package or at least that's what they are saying right now."

"The feeling is that once Bonner got elected he would not care about Cariboo, he has no interest in Cariboo and nobody is buying the guff that having a cabinet minister representing us is such a great thing."

BOTH HOUSES
Mayor Fraser said he has had "people coming in to see me and phoning me ever since Speare phoned the radio station to announce he was quitting. They want me to run but I will give my answer after I have thought about this. There is my business and family to consider."

The Fraser family is well-known in public life in Cariboo. The mayor's father, John Fraser, represented Cariboo in

Priests Plan Pub To Curb Drinking

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — Two Anglican priests plan to open a pub near Laurentian University here next fall to teach students how to drink English-style.

Rev. Edward Fuller and Rev. Kolin Clay want an equivalent of the famous Nag's Head Tavern in London in operation for the opening of the college next year.

Prices would be the same as in local beer parlors and cocktail lounges. The big difference, the priests say, would be that students would be encouraged to play cribbage, darts and checkers and make one beer last all evening.

"Present outlets tend to be booze-oriented, concerned more about consumption rather than people," Mr. Fuller, rector at a local church, said in an interview Friday.

Upper House Defeat Puts Skids Under Chancellor

BONN (Reuters) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, his face grey with fatigue, discussed with his depleted cabinet Friday the near-hopeless situation facing his government.

Four Free Democrat ministers walked out of the coalition cabinet Thursday, leaving the ruling Christian Democratic party with a minority in Parliament and precipitating a crisis expected to lead to the chancellor's downfall.

Friday, the government suffered its first parliamentary defeat when the Bundesrat (Upper House) threw out the 1967 budget.

The Bundesrat provides the cabinet Thursday, leaving the ruling Christian Democratic party with a minority in Parliament and precipitating a crisis.

Christian Democratic states joined in unanimously rejecting the budget.

For now Erhard is carrying on and he has asked ministers of his own party to take over the four vacant cabinet posts.

But Opposition Social Democratic sources said it is only a matter of time before the wheels of government grind to a halt over parliamentary resistance to the budget.

WAY BLOCKED
The Bundestag (Lower House) will debate the budget Nov. 8 and the Social Democrats are bound to vote against it with the Free Democrats.

The combined opposition parties can muster 251 votes while the Christian Democrats have only 245 and the way to parliamentary approval is blocked.

Constitutionally, the Christian Democrats could carry on without a budget, with restricted spending and revenue powers sufficient to enable the government to fulfil essential obligations.

Town Marshal vs. Town Treasurer

Shoot-Out Over Sewer Bill

FORT GIBSON, Okla. (UPI) — The state of Oklahoma took its 60-year-old anti-dueling law out of mothballs Friday against a town treasurer and a town marshal, accused of shooting it out over a $6.60 sewer bill.

But Fort Gibson treasurer Richard H. (Pete) McLemore denied it.

"That was no damn duel," McLemore said. "I was ambushed from behind a magnolia tree."

McLemore, 48, has been in Muskogee General Hospital because the Saturday shootout in front of his home "caused my heart condition to act up."

Marshal Johnny Scott was in the hospital's intensive care unit for treatment of shotgun wounds in the chest, arm and leg. Officials said Scott was unable to talk and his wife declined comment.

Both Scott, 32, and McLemore were charged with dueling and challenging for a duel. Fort Gibson Mayor Bill Bennett was charged with being an accessory to a duel because he allegedly carried the guns away from the battle site.

McLemore was also charged with shooting with intent to kill.

McLemore said he was "ambushed" as he prepared to leave for his job as a glass factory security guard.

"He shot about 20-25 times at me," McLemore said. "He was just spraying all around and I don't know how he kept from hitting me."

McLemore said he also thought three other shots came from another assailant.

"It was a planned attempt on my life," McLemore said. "This is just an old trouble," he added, launching into an explanation of rough-and-tumble Fort Gibson politics dating back nearly 20 years to his days as town marshal and constable in the northeastern Oklahoma town of 1,000.

The latest "trouble" began last January when McLemore refused to pay a $6.60 sewer bill because his home was not connected to the sewer line.

The city later shut off McLemore's water, forcing him to drill a well. In addition to months of legal manoeuvring, the dispute has included McLemore's arrest, threats and reported gun-waving incidents between the treasurer and marshal.

Assistant Muskogee county attorney Mike Kelly said the state law against dueling had been on the books "about 60 years" but that the last dueling charge filed was in 1924.

LAURENTIDE SHOCKS TRADE

By HARRY YOUNG, Business Editor

The most profound shock to hit the Canadian investment field since the collapse of Atlantic Acceptance last year, came late on Friday when Laurentide Financial Corporation suspended payment on all its preferred and common shares.

The news broke just shortly before the close of the eastern markets and the common and the five classes of preferred stock had hardly time to reflect the market opinion of the situation.

On the Vancouver Exchange, which remains open for an extra 90 minutes, Laurentide common stock dropped from $5.50 to $3.50 and there was little or no bidding for the preferred shares.

NO ASSURANCE
A statement by the Vancouver-based finance company said that dividends had been suspended until earnings improved.

This was not expected to happen before the end of the current fiscal year, which is next year.

No assurance was given that the dividends would be resumed at that time.

LOSS RECORDED
In its last fiscal year ended June 30, Laurentide recorded a loss of nearly $10,000,000, against a net profit of $3,700,000 the previous year.

Earlier the firm had been saved when control was taken over by Power Corporation of Canada. It ousted Peter Paul Saunders and Andrew Saxton from the top seats in Laurentide and instituted new accounting practices which wiped out many of the paper assets claimed by the old management.

Further, Power Corporation of Canada injected about $9,000,000 of its own money into the Laurentide stream in return for 3,000,000 subordinated common shares.

Despite this assistance, Laurentide directors have decided that for the meantime at least there will be no dividends on the common or preferred stock.

UN Requests Thant Stay

UNITED NATIONS (Reuters) — The Security Council adopted Friday a resolution asking U Thant to carry on as secretary-general until the current General Assembly session ends Dec. 20.

The 15-nation council, meeting in private, took only 15 minutes to reach the decision and issue an official communique.

The assembly will meet Tuesday to endorse the request.

All-Church Summit On War?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Methodist Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of Philadelphia said Friday there is a possibility that world church leaders, including Pope Paul, might meet to discuss the Viet Nam fighting.

"I think it would be a great advantage to our country and the world confessional bodies which would produce a statement on peace," Bishop Corson said.

He returned Thursday night after meeting the Roman Catholic pontiff at the Vatican.

Russia, Arabs Stall Action In Border Row

From UPI

With a new border incident rumbling in the background, a Soviet-Arab coalition Friday might force the United Nations Security Council to adjourn without taking action on Israel's complaint of Syrian aggression.

A Jerusalem report said rail service from three Israeli cities was cancelled Friday because of an Arab Commando attack which brought tension to a new high along the country's borders with its Arab neighbors.

The blasting of a Jerusalem-Tel Aviv freight train on the tracks only a mile from the Jordan frontier spurred Israel to demand immediate action by the United Nations to prevent a worsening of the crisis.

At the Security Council meeting Russia appeared intent on stalling the debate from the start, and Jordan further complicated matters by demanding the Secretary-General Thant supply a full report on the Middle East demilitarized zone.

In view of the 20-year border dispute, Thant warned, this might take months to fulfil.

The Security Council meanwhile recommended to the General Assembly that it extend Thant's term of office to the end of the current session, scheduled to end Dec. 20. His term of office expires next Thursday.

Riddle on Rails

New railway seems to be using Edmonton's Canadian National Railway yards. Residents, wondering where its headquarters may be, have trouble even pronouncing name as painted on side of boxcar.
